LOS ANGELES, California ? March 28, 2019 ? Sleep product company Coop Home Goods is proud to announce that its Original Pillow and Eden Pillow have achieved GREENGUARD Gold certification from global safety certification company UL Environment.

By achieving GREENGUARD Gold certification, the Coop Home Goods Original Pillow and Eden Pillow have met some of the world?s most rigorous, third-party chemical emissions standards. Due to their low total VOC emissions levels, the two pillows support healthy indoor air quality and are acceptable for use in environments such as schools and healthcare facilities.

?Receiving GREENGUARD Gold certification expresses our commitment to the safety of our customers and their loved ones,? said Kevin Chon, co-founder of Coop Home Goods. ?After all, we wouldn?t sell anything that we wouldn?t want our own family to sleep on.?

The certification also proves to be a step toward becoming more environmentally responsible for the company.

?It?s important for us as a company to be conscious of our impact on the environment, and I?m excited to continue our efforts toward a greener future,? Chon said.
