Their staff has been extended in order to better serve not only their local Tri city customers, but now they also have the staff and ability to travel to nearly any surrounding towns or cities within a 90 mile radius of the Kitchener Waterloo area.

Business owner Matthew McHugh says: ?Because we have such an ecstatic customer base here in the Tri City area, we decided it didn?t make sense to limit the customers that had access to our work and we genuinely want to be able to provide our painting services to a larger customer base.?

Matthew was also noted as saying, ?We are finding lately that qualified Cabinet Painters or Cabinet Refinishing is in demand as people are looking to spruce up their kitchens without a total replacement of their cabinets. We are happy to provide service for those smaller jobs as no job is too big or too small for our team.?

Regardless of the type of job required, McHugh Painters has the years of experience coupled with happy customers across the board to prove their integrity and genuine want to give their customers the best possible work available in the marketplace. They have the team for any job regardless of the size, from large commercial painting jobs to residential house wall painting for the homeowners in need of their services.

He went on to say, ?We have the right team with the years of experience to help customers whether they need simple wall painting, interior or exterior work or an entire house inside and out. We are also very comfortable with large commercial painting work and we guarantee the job will be done to your specifications.?

McHugh Painting is the top provider for residential painting contractors in Kitchener Waterloo and surrounding areas with the ability to take care of any and all different types of work that you may need done. They specialize in offering interior wall painters and cabinet painters in Kitchener Waterloo.

You can see all other services they have experience doing on their website from Deck and Fence Staining to Wall Painting for apartments, condos and houses along with any Exterior work that needs to be done.

Matt and his team fully comprehend how just a fresh coat of paint can make a huge difference in a home, office or commercial building while also understanding that people are busy and their time is generally better spent doing what they do for a living or for leisure for that matter.

In order to provide that fresh new look and feel and liven things up for people from all walks of life in a wide geographic area, thereby adding curb appeal while increasing the property value all at once, McHugh painting is thrilled to expand their service area significantly.

They understand that most people simply don?t have the time necessary to undertake such a project, they at one point or another are going to look online for painters and decorators to find a good professional to take on the task at hand and they are elated to be that professional for them.

Finding painters that are not only qualified, but also trustworthy and professional can be a sticking point in getting interior house painters or exterior home painting done by someone you can rely on. McHugh Painting sincerely wants to put more and more customers minds at ease and assure them that they will be taken care of. They are known to keep professionalism at the forefront of every job.

Having faith and trust in home painters should be something people don?t have to think about again once hiring the right painter and decorator. Many things could potentially go wrong on the job if hiring a fly by night company that is looking for the next quick dollar and doesn?t have a customer's best interest in mind.
