Atlanta, Ga.-- Specialty Engraving has long been ?Atlanta?s Awards Leader.? The Atlanta awards store has been moving forward with their business, exceeding expectations, and providing top-notch service.

?If you?re not moving forward, you?re falling behind,? says Chris from Specialty Engraving. The company strives to live by this standard; the team at Specialty Engraving has made changes within and has added some new talent.

Jerry Greenway, the long-time production manager, retired recently, making way for the new production manager: Matthew Greenway. ?Matthew brings with him a depth of experience in the business both at the management level and also the production level with the ability to operate every piece of equipment and technology we have,? says Chris.

The team has also welcomed Robert Lloyd, who will oversee the acrylics department as well as master the Fiber Laser.

On the Fiber Laser, Chris says, ?This piece of cutting-edge equipment is our latest purchase and has proved to be invaluable in meeting the needs of our ever-changing industry and customers.?

The Specialty Engraving team has also welcomed more new talent to their sales team and production departments. With new team members, Specialty Engraving is ready to provide the best service for Atlanta awards and promotional products. Their 4 locations in the Atlanta area host great teams ready to serve as Atlanta?s Awards Leader.

?Specialty Engraving is ready for the growth this economy has to offer,? says Chris.

Specialty Engraving has been Atlanta?s Awards Leader since 1958. They have been providing the finest quality promotional products in Atlanta, the best service, and the best value in the industry. They are proud to make a difference and be Georgia?s largest source for recognition products. They?re faster, closer, better, cheaper, more caring, and more experienced than the competition; and they?re ready to serve you.
