April 03, 2019 -

Dependable Homebuyers is no stranger to controversy. This in spite of the fact that they have proven time and time again to be a viable option for homeowners who are eager to sell their Fort Meyers properties in the most straightforward fashion possible. When one does the research on this national home-buying company, the same results will come up again and again. This is a company that emphasizes simple solutions for homeowners who cannot utilize the traditional Fort Meyers real estate market for one reason or another.

This is something that has ruffled a few feathers among realtors and others involved in the traditional Fort Meyers real estate market. Some feel that Dependable Homebuyers is threatening the status quo by purchasing AS IS homes with cash. In many cases, Dependable Homebuyers can buy the home in less than two weeks. When compared to the traditional real estate market, this is a significant difference.

Going the traditional route with Fort Meyers real estate can be highly problematic for many homeowners. It can become a time-consuming, costly venture. While the traditional real estate market is fine for some, Evan Roberts, the founder and owner of Dependable Homebuyers, believes it is absolutely ludicrous to assume that its one-size-fits-all approach to selling homes will work for everyone. To that end, Roberts has gone to great lengths to create a home-buying company that allows the homeowner to avoid the Fort Meyers real estate market entirely.

Dependable Homebuyers is not made up of individuals who do not know or care about Fort Meyers real estate. A little research will emphasize the opposite to be true. This is a team of real estate agents who understand the challenges and demands of trying to sell a home through traditional channels. Many homeowners need to sell their homes quickly for one reason or another. Other homeowners may find it difficult to sell because of the condition of the property. For example, hoarder homes naturally struggle a great deal on the real estate market. Dependable Homebuyers has worked with property owners from all walks of life. They offer a range of options for selling that are designed to suit the needs of each individual homeowner. For those who need to sell quickly, Dependable Homebuyers can purchase their home in just a couple of weeks. For those who cannot sell on the traditional real estate market, Dependable Homebuyers promises to purchase their home in any condition. This can even include homes that have suffered a good deal of damage in some form or another. The company has made it clear in no uncertain terms that they are willing to work with virtually anyone.

Keeping all of the above in mind, it is not difficult to understand why some in the real estate field have regarded them harshly. When they see an ad from the company that promises to buy any home in any condition, knowing the company will deliver on that promise in flawless fashion, it is not difficult to see why some might be threatened.
