

Fort Lauderdale FI Company Announces Air Conditioning Repair For Upcoming Season

April 29, 2019

April 29, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Abraham AC & Heating Services, Inc. in Oakland Park, Florida, has announced air conditioning repair services, just in time for the upcoming summer season. The company provides a wide range of heating and air conditioning installations and repairs and say that now is the time to have units checked for functionality before the hot summer months arrive. A complete list of their services can be seen at <http://www.abrahamac.com/>.

Adam Soliman, a representative for the company says, "Spring is the time to have those air conditioning units checked to ensure that they will operate as they should when the hot summer months arrive. We offer inspections and services for residential and commercial units, to ensure that our customers stay comfortably cool during warmer weather."

Soliman says that the company employs only the most experienced and knowledgeable technicians to service their customers. He states that the company can handle any diagnosis and always responds quickly to service calls in order to ensure that customers have the cool air that they need when summer temperatures soar.

?Summer temperatures in Florida can easily hit over 100 on some days,? says Soliman. ?Not having air conditioning in a home or business would mean utter discomfort when those temperatures reach higher marks. We can come to the customer, diagnose the problem with their unit and get it running again in no time, ensuring that they enjoy summer as they should.?

Soliman adds that the company will provide a fair and competitive quote for all required services and offer details to customers about the issue and what it will take to get their unit functioning properly again. He states that the company services a number of areas around Fort Lauderdale, all of which can be seen online at <https://www.google.com/maps?cid=7924250806535240204>.

Soliman urges those in the area who have not had their air conditioning units inspected recently to call on the company for a service. He states that regular service calls and repairs will help to extend the life of the unit, ensuring that it operates as it should for many years. Regular servicing can also help air conditioning and heating units to offer home and business owners the lowest energy rates when using those units. Soliman says that a malfunctioning unit, even if it still blows out cold air, could raise energy rates substantially, and he states that any home or business owner who has noticed an exceptionally high energy bill should schedule a service to have their unit checked.

Abraham AC & Heating Services also adds that they service more than one brand and manufacturer. ?Many companies have experience with just one or two brands or models,? says Soliman. ?This causes an issue for someone who has a different brand. Our technicians have experience with all brands and manufacturers of heating and air conditioning units and are trained to guarantee that our customers receive the best possible service.?

Soliman adds that all of the company?s technicians are cross trained on different makes and models of units to ensure that they can assist every customer. He says that by offering all unit brands, they can help customers to find any replacement part that may be needed, and help to keep those repair costs lower than many other companies.

The company offers a wide range of services for customers in and around Coral Springs, Weston, Parkland, and other areas around Fort Lauderdale, Florida. A complete list of their services can be seen at <https://goo.gl/maps/nFQvpTsBwA52>, and includes inspections, repairs and installation of residential and commercial air conditioning and heating units as well as filters, tune-ups, replacement parts, warranties, duct cleaning, roofing packages, air quality inspections and more.

Soliman states that now is the time for Florida residents and businesses to have their air conditioning units checked to ensure that they will be ready for the upcoming summer season. Those who are interested in learning more can visit the company online or contact them directly via phone or email.

###

For more information about Abraham AC & Heating Services, Inc., contact the company here: Abraham AC & Heating Services, Inc. Adam Soliman 954-491-3220 abrahamhvac@gmail.com 4543 Powerline Rd, Oakland Park, FL, 33309, United States

Abraham AC & Heating Services, Inc.

Abraham AC & Heating Services, Inc is in the service and home comfort business. We specialize in heating and AC repair, and new installations for both. We also specialize in air quality systems for all your home or business comfort needs.

Website: <http://www.abrahamac.com/>

Email: abrahamhvac@gmail.com

Phone: 954-491-3220

