April 29, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Abraham AC & Heating Services, Inc. in Oakland Park, Florida has announced that now is the time for residents to have their units checked before the upcoming summer season. The company provides a wide range of heating and air conditioning services and repairs and state that they have technicians available to check residential and commercial units and ensure that they are all ready for the hot weather that is coming.

The company states that those who are interested can visit them on their official company Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/abrahamarepair> to learn more about the services that they offer and to interact with other customers.

Adam Soliman, a representative for the company says, "Summer will be here before we know it and it will bring some pretty hot weather. Now is the time to have air conditioning units checked to ensure that they will operate as they should or have them repaired if the need arises."

Soliman states that the company can install, service or repair air conditioning units from any manufacturer. He adds that all of their technicians are cross trained to be able to diagnose and repair any unit from any manufacturer or brand to ensure that they can assist each customer that calls. He states that they also offer emergency services for those who suddenly notice that their unit is not working.

?Whether heating or cooling, when someone turns on the unit, they want it to work,? says Soliman. ?When those units stop working, sometimes in the middle of the night, it can be stressful. We provide emergency repairs to get those units up and running again and to ensure that our customers are always completely comfortable in their homes or offices.?

Soliman says that those in the area can learn more about the company and the areas that they service by visiting them online at <https://www.google.com/maps?cid=7924250806535240204>. Weather in Fort Lauderdale and surrounding areas is typically hot and humid from June through September. This three month period can see some relatively high temperatures, often reaching to 100 or higher in extreme cases. Soliman says that any home or business in the area needs a properly functioning air conditioning unit to ensure that inhabitants stay cool during these hot months.

Summers in Florida often produce dangerously humid situations where residents need air conditioning to protect themselves. There are multiple reports every year of people who suffer from heat stroke, most often at home because they do not have a properly functioning air conditioning unit to help them to survive those higher temperatures. Soliman says that Abraham AC & Heating Services provides services and repairs from all manufacturers and on all brands and models. ?Some companies have experience in only one or two brands, which can be difficult for those customers that do not have those brands,? Soliman states. ?So, they often try to talk their customers into purchasing a new unit, to get one that they can service, even if the customer doesn?t need a new unit.?

Soliman says that the company services all makes and models of air conditioning and heating units so that they can assist every customer. He adds that they offer fair and competitive pricing, with a quote upfront before service is started so that customers know what to expect. He says that customers simply call or use the online form to schedule a service and a technician will come and provide them with a quote for that service.

Those who are in the Fort Lauderdale area who have not had their units serviced are urged to do so now, before summer temperatures arrive. Soliman states that the company has technicians who are ready to assist home and business owners with all of their heating and air conditioning needs.
