Dependable Homebuyers has been met with great backlash from other real estate agents as they have become worried that their tactics are going to challenge the status quo for the market.

The owners of the company have learned how to identify and aggressively target homes that are able to be purchased directly from homeowners. Once they select these properties, they make a reasonable offer within 24 hours and upon the offer being accepted, closing is completed.

Dependable Homebuyers in San Antonio recently ran a campaign targeted at potential homeowners looking to sell their property. The ad was placed on Facebook and titled "Fire Your Realtor." This tactic upset many of the competing realtors and representatives from some of the bigger companies made their offensiveness well known.

Dependable Homebuyers is different from traditional real estate agents. When hiring a traditional realtor, there is no guarantee that a home will be sold. However, when working with Dependable Homebuyers, property owners are guaranteed to receive a reasonable cash offer for their property providing them with a simple solution for selling their property. Many times, homeowners do not want to deal with the costly repairs or inconvenience of selling their house. With Dependable Homebuyers, homeowners are given a reasonable offer on their property regardless of the condition or location. There are never any hidden fees to be paid when dealing with them.

For hundreds of years, the way in which the real estate business has been the same. This has resulted in some of the key players becoming accustomed to the status quo and the comfort of the way things run, said Evan Roberts of Dependable Homebuyers. We have gotten a system down where we are able to work quickly to close the deal allowing the property owners to move on from unwanted properties or difficult situations.
