April 08, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Dr. Randy Wong, of Honolulu Plastic Surgery, is proud to announce that the techniques and procedures he uses during the breast augmentations he performs have the potential to significantly reduce his patients' recovery time. "We use newer techniques which can help reduce both the scarring and the pain afterwards which can also help minimize downtime," said Dr. Randy Wong.

Interested parties may browse information regarding the clinic, their available procedures, staff, and much more on their website, which can be found at <http://honoluluplasticsurgerycenter.com/>.

2018 figures show the continued rise of breast augmentation across the USA, with over 520 thousand operations for plastic surgery registered with the American Society of Plastic Surgeons (ASPS). Aside from breast augmentation, other procedures for implant removal, breast lifts, and breast reductions for both women and men are also on the rise. The ASPS additionally recorded a decrease in the number of reconstructive procedures for breast reconstruction, implant removals, and breast reduction.

Many women are unhappy with the size and shape of their breasts, and for those with micromastia, where the breasts never develop, or those who develop asymmetrical breasts, it can be an embarrassing topic to discuss. Furthermore, those who have had children may find that their breasts and other parts of their body don't bounce back to normal.

Men too can suffer from excess breast tissue due to hormonal[AM1] changes, weight gain, hereditary conditions, or the use of certain drugs, including anabolic steroids and marijuana. As is the case for women, this can quite embarrassing and cause a lack of self-confidence, limiting the person's activities.

Those looking for breast augmentation Honolulu may seek out experts in the field like Dr. Randy Wong, whose training was based on the reconstructive skills that were taught to him by some of the best plastic surgeons in the world. Each surgery that Dr. Wong performs is carried out with the maximum amount of forethought and planning, which means there is far less room for error and excess scarring.

Honolulu Plastic Surgery's only staffs doctors certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery. The practice offers a wide range of services, including breast augmentation, facial rejuvenation, fat injections, tummy tucks, liposuction, blepharoplasty, and advance skinceuticals. The clinic also offers "mommy makeover" options for those looking to make a change. Whether or not a prospective patient has children, the practice provides the same care and attention to everyone who wishes to bring out their desired appearance?though breast augmentation should be performed once babies are weaned.

Dr. Randy Wong and his team care about their patients and want them to be educated, both about their bodies and the plastic surgery field, and this is evident in their many reviews. Jessica from Realself, who had a tummy tuck, said, "Both Dr. Wong and Maria are amazing. Kind, patient, and compassionate. Dr. Wong is truly the first plastic surgeon I've met with absolute integrity; he strives to do what is best for the patient on all levels. The entire office is so "real" versus "plastic." His unique surgical techniques are a step above the rest. Post-surgery, I had such little pain I only needed regular Tylenol for a few days. Highly, highly recommended!"

The Honolulu plastic surgery center can be followed on their active accounts on Facebook and Twitter. Posts on these contain more resources for anyone looking to learn more and stay in touch with the company. Dr. Wong urges interested patients to visit him online or reach out to his office directly by phone or email to schedule an initial consultation.

Visitors to the website can easily access the center's phone number, address, and downloadable driving directions. The clinic also offers discounts for military personnel, and have launched 2019 Birthday Month special offers on a range of services. Honolulu Plastic Surgery is happy to answer any inquires in person, over the phone, or through the contact form on their official website.
