A La Costa dental office has announced that they now have openings for new patients. The dental practice in California recently stated that they are taking on new patients and that they treat patients of all ages.

Elan Weinstein, a representative for the dental practice says, "We wanted to take this time to let people in the area know that we are taking on new patients and that we offer a number of payment options from private pay to insurance. We can help patients to navigate through the complicated insurance forms and processes to make it easier for them to receive the dental care that they need."

Weinstein says that the practice is proud to offer dental care for the entire family. They provide a wide range of dental services from routine cleanings to cosmetic procedures including braces, dentures and implants.

"We take care of everyone in the family," says Weinstein. "Whether it's helping baby's first tooth to come through or designing a beautiful set of dentures for grandpa, we offer everything from the simplest to the most complex dental care for our patients."

Weinstein states that Solana Beach Dentistry is now taking on new patients and that those who are interested in learning more can visit the practice on their website. The website offers information about all of the services that the practice performs as well as general information such as contact information, a map and driving directions and new patient forms.

“New patient forms and questionnaires can help those who have never visited our office before to be fully prepared for their first appointment,” Weinstein adds. “We always recommend that new patients take the time to review these forms and ensure that they have everything that they need when they visit us.”

Weinstein says that patients who have questions are also welcome to contact the practice at any time during their normal business hours by phone to have their questions answered by a member of the staff. The website also provides general information about the doctors and staff, and offers a blog with detailed information about a variety of procedures that they offer.

New patients are encouraged to contact the practice to schedule their first appointment. More information about this initial consultation can be found on the practice’s website, as well. Weinstein adds that patients who have never visited the dental practice before can schedule a consultation for a general dental checkup to ensure that there are no issues that need to be addressed. He states that regular checkups are crucial to overall oral health and adds that any patient who has not seen a dentist in more than six months should schedule their appointment as soon as possible.

Weinstein says that because they are a complete family dental office, families can avoid the frustrations of having multiple dental offices to visit for each member of the family. The dental practice offers services for patients of all ages and is conveniently located for those in and around La Costa and the surrounding areas.

Those who are interested in learning more can visit the practice online at <https://solanabeachdentistry.com/>. Weinstein says that new patients can visit the website to get a better idea of what is expected of them on their first appointment. He adds that the initial consultation is a good opportunity for the dentist to go over any dental issues that the patient may have and help to develop a plan to treat those issues.

Consumers in the area who do not currently have a regular dentist now have the opportunity to secure a spot with the La Costa based dentist. The practice did not state how many new patients they will be accepting during this time but did say that anyone who has not seen a dentist recently should book an appointment as soon as possible to ensure their dental health. Contact information to schedule appointments can be found on the website.
