Infinit Lash Products is a company in Del Mar, California that provides a wide range of products for professionals who offer eyelash extensions. The company provides eyelash extension glue and other products and regularly offers new information to salon professionals about using these products and how to answer any questions that their clients may have about lash extensions.

Tasha Land, a representative for the company says, "We get a lot of questions from salon owners about what to tell their clients regarding how safe extensions are and whether or not they can cause any issues with the client's own natural lashes. So, we started publishing information that will help professionals to better answer these questions and help their clients to make the right decisions for their own beauty needs."

Land says that clients often wonder whether eyelash extensions will harm their natural lashes. She says that used correctly, lash extensions should be safe for any client, but that professionals should note that there could potentially be some side effects of using certain products.

"Professionals should always be completely upfront with their clients," Land says. "If a client wants to know the eyelash extensions effect on natural lashes, they should be told. One of the most common side effects is allergies, which doesn't necessarily affect the natural lashes, but it can be uncomfortable for clients.?

Land says that any professional that has questions about using lash extensions can visit the company online and read through their list of frequently asked questions. She states that they answer a number of questions that salon owners are likely to be asked at some point by their clients.

?Knowing the answers to these questions is so important in helping clients to decide what is best for them,? Land adds.

Infini Lash Products also recently released a YouTube video that outlines how to safely and effectively remove the glue that holds lash extensions in place. Land states that any professional who is not sure about the process should watch the video so that they can better assist their clients.

The company provides lash extension adhesive and other products on their website and through the Amazon marketplace. Land states that all of the products that they offer have been thoroughly tested over the years and that the company has worked with multiple manufacturers to determine which extension products are the safest and most effective.

Land says that lash extension salon professionals who are asked about the effects of these extensions on natural eyelashes can let their clients know that when they are used properly, extensions do not cause an issue with natural lashes. They do not typically pull out natural lashes or cause them to weaken or stop growing. She adds that it is perfectly normal for eyelashes to shed, as many as a few lashes each day, and that when they are growing, lashes may shed even more.

Land also says that professionals who have questions can visit the company online and read through their informative posts to be better prepared to answer questions from their clients. She states that those who are interested in learning more about the lash extension glue offered by Infini Lash Products or any of the other products that they offer can visit them on their Amazon seller's page or on their official company website.

The company's frequently asked questions page offers a plethora of information for professionals and those who are considering having lash extensions applied. Land states that those who have further questions can contact the company through their website and a knowledgeable representative will answer those questions. The company works with salon professionals all over the nation and states that they offer only the highest quality of lash extension products, including adhesives and removers, for those who apply lashes professionally. Their website offers a detailed look at all of their products and information about how to use each product safely and effectively.
