Tattoos are known for being a way to permanently mark one's body, often to make a statement, to honor a loved one, commemorate a special occasion, or simply because they are visually appealing. People choose tattoos because they stay with the person forever. This, however, presents a challenge in situations where the owner of the tattoo no longer, for whatever reason, feels connected to their tattoo.

In cases like this, it is possible to make one's permanent ink less "permanent" with the help of laser tattoo removal. New Look Houston is a laser tattoo removal studio located in Houston, offering a solution for those who no longer want their tattoos.

Laser tattoo removal works by focusing a laser beam on the tattooed area to break up the pigment and color in a tattoo. New Look Houston makes use of Duality and Ruby lasers by Astanza, which are both designed exclusively for the removal of tattoos. Equipped with some of the most advanced tattoo removal tools in the industry, New Look can remove a variety of colors in several locations all across the body. "Our lasers use three separate wavelengths of light to remove darker (black, purple, brown), brighter (red, yellow, orange), and stubborn blue-green tattoo pigments," says New Look. "The laser needs only a fraction of a second to break down the pigment, allowing your treatment to be completed in only a short time. Tattoo removal lasers do not penetrate the deeper layers of skin, making scarring very rare and healing very fast.?

On average, total removal of a tattoo takes five to ten treatments depending on the age, color, quality of ink, and technique used to create the tattoo. The goal of the process is to shatter the ink in the skin while simultaneously leaving the skin as undamaged as possible. The types of tattoos New Look commonly find themselves removing include names and words in both cursive and block letters, rings (which are often worn under jewelry), a variety of different designs spanning hearts and other symbols, large pieces like tattoo sleeves, and sometimes even smaller pieces of a larger tattoo.

New Look has been part of the removal of thousands of unwanted tattoos, and this experience means that each of the technicians knows how to remove ink effectively while keeping pain to a minimum. ?With today?s technology, we are able to precisely target the ink in your tattoo with minimal side effects,? asserts the company. ?The laser energy gently passes through the outermost layer of skin until it reach your tattoo?s pigment and leaves the lower layers untouched. The skin is very rarely broken, although some swelling and sensitivity is common. For your comfort, we use a high-tech cooling system during the procedure to numb the skin prior to the tattoo removal procedure.? New Look has invested in the best technology to provide unmatched results for their clients, as results are the most important thing to any client looking for laser tattoo removal services. To make the experience as comfortable as possible, the company hires only the friendliest staff and ensures that the removals are done in a relaxing environment.

In addition to their tattoo removal services, New Look offers a number of different procedures for those looking to fix any issues they may have with their appearance. Clients looking to decrease the visibility of wrinkles and other imperfections can make use of the company?s Botox and Fillers, as well as their laser hair removal, microneedling, pigmented lesions, dermaplaning, facials and chemical peels, and laser fungus removal services.

?I went to New Look expecting a very costly and painful procedure to remove my tattoo. The price was right and it took fewer treatments than they said it would. My tattoo is gone, and I am a satisfied patient,? says Vanessa, a satisfied client.
