Old World Brick Paving, an Illinois-based company, is pleased to announce the availability of their maintenance services for permeable pavers to the residents of Illinois. The company has years of experience handling permeable brick pavers for patios, walks, driveways, and pool decks. We have specialized in permeable paver maintenance, permeable paver repair, and permeable paver cleaning. Our focus is on beautifying landscaping and giving our clients a long lasting solution that does not require frequent maintenance, says the company.

Permeable paving, sometimes referred to as pervious paving, gap-graded paving, enhanced porosity paving, or porous paving, is a method of paving used on pedestrian and vehicle pathways that allows fluids to permeate through the surface. This method of paving is specifically designed to reduce surface runoff. It also helps in trapping suspended solids and filtering pollutants. Old World Brick Paving provides permeable paver installation, permeable paver repair, permeable paver cleaning, and permeable paver maintenance to residents all across Illinois.

With a team of experts trained in the professional installation of permeable pavers, Old World Brick Paving helps clients manage stormwater by reducing runoff and refilling aquifers. The company makes use of high grade materials that not only last long but are also designed to handle heavy traffic far more efficiently. Notably, they have a digital design service that enables clients to take a look at what the project will look like upon completion, while also offering them a chance to alter the design to better fit their vision.

While permeable brick pavers are made to last a very long time, nothing really lasts forever without maintenance. Permeable paver maintenance is an important part of preserving the appearance of one's patio or driveway for years to come. Old World Brick Paving has a number of professional maintenance experts ready to work with clients to ensure that their pavers last as long as possible.

As sediment and debris can accumulate on the surface and slow the rate of infiltration, cleaning away this sediment is an important part of maintenance as it protects the paver from clogging. This additionally reduces the need for frequent heavy maintenance. Pavers that experience high traffic require more frequent maintenance to ensure that they maintain the desired permeability. Garbage, thick vegetation, and even the local weather play a deciding role in how often the paver needs sweeping. The company takes all this into account in order to provide the best service they can at decent rates.

Heavy use can cause breakage, cracking, and disrupted arrangements which all require repairs. "We believe that your paver should look presentable throughout the year, which is why we offer professional repair services for permeable pavers," says the company. Using superior quality bricks and equipment, Old World Brick Paving strives to ensure that the repairs have a long lifespan.

Old World Brick Paving is a family owned company established in 1993. Considered one of the most experienced contractors in Chicago, they have participated in a number of projects in the area. Their projects range from large commercial paving projects to smaller individual projects. "No matter the project, we have the know-how and manpower to complete the project on time and on budget," asserts the company. "We love helping homeowners bring their vision to life. When the job is complete and the homeowner takes their first look, watching their face "light up" is what we enjoy most; it is at that moment we know the customer will enjoy our work for years to come."

The company has received a number of 5-star reviews on Yelp. Sandra C. in Naperville, Illinois says, "We had a deck removed and paver patio installed. Frank helped us with the design and selection of stone and colors, and we love the result. His hard working team got the job done quickly and professionally. Frank also accommodated a number of last minute changes and add-ons. We appreciated their can-do attitude. They may not be the least expensive option, but I would use them again without hesitation for their quality, professionalism, and timeliness."
