April 23, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Bridgeview, IL based Imperial Crane Services, Inc. encourages clients in the Chicago, Illinois community to make use of the company's trustworthy services. They offer a top tier service carried out by qualified professionals.

Founded in 1969, Imperial Crane Services is a crane and equipment company that has been recognized as one of the largest and safest crane companies in the world. They are capable of handling everything from small construction projects to large industrial projects, offering maintenance agreements that may span several years.

Having a long record of satisfied customers, the company has established itself as an important option to take into account for those looking to buy a crane in Illinois. Imperial Crane Services offers a service carried out by highly qualified professionals with many years of experience in the field, ensuring that one's project will be handled safely, and according to all adequate regulations.

Imperial Crane Services' commitment to excellence is evident in their dedication to maintaining the highest standards in safety, service, and quality. The company takes a great deal of pride in this fact, claiming that, "Our commitment to excellence is the most integral component in our daily operations." They employ the safest, cutting edge, equipment and procedures wherever they are.

The crane expert provides a multitude of services to the Chicago community, including Crane Services, Crane Rental, Manlift Rental, Crane Sales, and many more, all geared towards satisfying the customer's needs. For instance, their credit policy allows customers on a limited budget the opportunity to move from rent to own a construction crane. Those who explore this opportunity are offered a minimum of 30 days to fulfill their payment.

To supplement the attention that they pay every client, the company's website boasts a full showcase of all their available machinery and services. One of the benefits of this is that clients are able to browse the prices and specifications of all the cranes under the company's purview, whether for sale or rent, before they even contact the company in person. As a result, the customer enjoys the convenience of locating the equipment or services they want at their own leisure, without incurring any obligation to the company in the process.

In addition to the sale of cranes and other equipment, Imperial Crane Services hosts Qualified Signal Person Training courses for interested personnel, covering the review of requirements, crane functions and limitations, general safety, and more. This guarantees that graduates of this program will have learned how to maintain a high level of productivity while complying with OSHA and ASME safety requirements.

The priority that the company gives to its safety protocols is well recognized, as it has often been the recipient of numerous safety awards. In conjunction with their cutting edge equipment and highly trained employees, this priority has allowed Imperial Crane to rise above their competition. In March of 2016, Imperial Crane Service's fame and recognition earned the company an appearance on an episode of "World's Greatest," a TV show where they were described as, "One of the most unique crane rental companies in the industry."

Imperial Crane Service's satisfied customers often take the time to express their gratitude towards the company. David Seper, Director at the Wigdahl Electric company, said, "I only work with Imperial Crane on my jobs. I trust Imperial, for finding the correct crane and layout. I know the operators, I know their crew. When it comes to Imperial, I am confident there will be no worries. In five years, I have had no issues. I need a job done, I call Imperial Crane."

A representative of Imperial Crane Services company affirmed, "At Imperial Crane Services, we take pride in our remarkable customer service, offering our services 24 Hours a day, 7 days of the week, ensuring that our customer's need will never go unattended."
