

Portable Changing Station Great for Travel Announces

3 Bees and Me

July 16, 2015

July 16, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

3 Bees and Me proudly shared earlier that their portable changing station is great for travel. The company announced that they made sure that all the features of this diaper clutch were convenient not just for quick errands around town, but also for plane travels and longer trips when it isn't convenient to carry a big diaper bag. This is the main reason why the bulk of their customers are parents who are always on the go or people looking for a baby shower gift for moms on the go.

"For us, aside from the quality of the product, the convenience that it can give is also important. This is why we made sure that our diaper clutch will be great for parents who are traveling with their babies," says 3 Bees and Me spokesperson, Holly James. "We chose everything from the design, size and style based on the premise that the product should be able to give parents the convenience that they deserve when traveling or simply doing errands with their kids. We believe that comfort and style should go hand in hand."

Based on the reviews received by the company for the portable diaper changing station it is quite evident that they have succeeded with what they want to achieve. In one review by Tiffany Aytes, she stated, "I wish I would have gotten one sooner. This is the best changing pad station that I have ever had. It is really well made and durable. It is easy to clean. There are plenty of pockets. I love that it can hold everything I need and still folds up easily. I have replaced my diaper bag with this. It is great to take everywhere. I take mine to the store, family and friends houses, etc. I use to hate using the nasty diaper changing stations because all I had was a small thin pad that my daughter would easily bunch up and she would touch the station. This doesn't bunch up and is a great size.?

The diaper clutch sold at Amazon boasts a simple white and black chevron design. It has a zippered pocket in front that can house valuables such as money and keys. The clutch has several compartments to accommodate various baby essentials such as wipes, diapers and small baby toys. This is very ideal for travel because it is made of vinyl material that is very easy to sanitize and clean. Moreover, it has a strap that can be attached to a stroller. The pad is large and foldable with a unique wing design.

For parents with babies, it is important to have a "grab and go" baby changing pad to help make traveling with an infant easier.

###

For more information about 3 Bees and Me, contact the company here: 3 Bees and Me Holly James 888-434-6206 press@3beesandme.com 31855 Date Palm Dr Suite 3-245 Cathedral City, CA 92234

3 Bees and Me

3 Bees & Me sells high quality baby products that are unique and different. 3 Bees & Me has recently started selling on Amazon.com.

Website: <http://3beesandme.com>

Email: press@3beesandme.com

Phone: 888-434-6206

