A verified Amazon buyer has recently expressed her satisfaction on Frux Home and Yard's Tealights. She bought the Flameless Tealights + Luminary Bag Set, with 24 battery-operated LED tea lights and 12-star luminary bags. After using for a couple of days, she shared her delight by leaving a positive feedback on Frux's Tealights listing.

The Amazon buyer with the username 'amieinga' purchased the tealights in January of 2017. She used them to change the lighting and feel of their home for the winter. According to the 5-star review she left on the listing, she liked that the tealights were still flickering even after long hours of turning them on.

She also liked the luminary bags that come with a set of 24 tealights. She also recommended that the package holds dozens of little tealights and luminaries that there will be more to use for the next year.
