April 25, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Columbus, OH (April 25, 2019) -- Carlile, Patchen & Murphy, LLP is pleased to be celebrating their 52nd year of providing legal excellence to individuals, families, and businesses. Since their inception in 1967, they have based their practice on building long-lasting relationships and protecting and preserving the rights of their clients. Client satisfaction has been consistent throughout their 52 years in business, and they are proactive in ensuring their legal services remain the best in the region.

Carlile, Patchen & Murphy practices many areas of law, including banking and finance, intellectual property, business services and transactions, employment, estate planning, probate, real estate and construction, taxation, securities, and more. Each of the 35 attorneys and more than 35 paralegals and staff members keep up with the latest developments in these different areas of law in order to best serve their clients. The same high level of legal services are provided to clients today, just like they were 52 years ago, when the firm was founded.

Carlile, Patchen & Murphy takes great pride in only bringing the most qualified attorneys to their team. Each of the attorneys are also encouraged to continue their education, pursue teaching opportunities, and develop thought leadership to make their skills even more well-rounded to better serve their clients.

About Carlile Patchen & Murphy

Carlile, Patchen & Murphy, LLP was originally founded by Richard V. Patchen and Denis J. Murphy. Hunt Carlile joined the firm a few years later in 1978, and brought a significant amount of expertise along with him. Throughout the 1970s and 1980s, the firm experienced consistent growth and became widely known as a leading business law firm that could handle some of the most complex matters.

In 2015, Carlile, Patchen, & Murphy, LLP merged with the Campbell Hornbeck Chilcoat & Veatch law firm and opened up a second office in Dublin, OH. The merger only increased the law firm's visibility and now has the reputation of being the most respected regional law firm, with expertise in many different areas.
