The company?s goal is to ensure customers are 100% satisfied with their menu printing orders, time and time again.

Explains Sam Reese, Director at DWJ Group, ?We launched Menu Printing Direct in order to be able to offer a fast, efficient turn around of menus for busy restaurants, pubs, clubs and cafes where turnover is high and menus change frequently. We also wanted to ensure our products are easy-to-order and above all affordable. Once artwork is added to the site, the customer can simply log in and order a new batch if the menus haven?t changed or change the artwork and request a print order.

?Our ethos as a specialist menu printer is to guarantee three things to our customers: Quality, Service & Value. This not only ensures an unbeatable service, but a reputation that leads to returning customers. By choosing us, customers know that they?ll receive a professional, quality service.?
