April 30, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Union City, Calif.-- Alpine Awards has spent the entire month preparing for summer camps and uniforms in San Francisco. The Union City awards shop has already helped many happy customers prepare for the upcoming summer months.

?With summer just around the corner, April is the perfect time to start gathering your artwork or camp logo as well as t-shirt colors and quantities to get your camp shirts in time and stress-free,? says Vicki Lake, their sales manager.

Alpine Awards specializes in customer service with their custom apparel services. One of the unique services they provide is allowing the clients to create their own design on products such as shirts, hats, totes, and more. Alpine Awards uses high-quality materials and provides high-quality craftsmanship for each client.

Alpine Awards has made their customized t-shirt design service simple for clients who prefer working online. Clients just select the apparel they want to customize, create the design, and request a quote for the product. As an alternative to the online ordering system, San Francisco Awards offers quality in-store assistance and will answer any questions clients have.

?I would suggest anyone try them from wanting custom printed t-shirts done whether it?s for a team or a trip with the family [sic]. My team never looked better with their custom tees! Thank you so much Alpine Awards!?
writes Oceana Walters, a Google reviewer.
