May 01, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Dallas, TX ? Barbara Witherite photographs a variety of subjects, which includes pet photography for owners who want to capture their animal in a beautiful and quality setting. Those who are looking to get photos of their pet at any age can obtain high-quality images, like action shots or poses, with the services of the photographer.

Equipped with plenty of patience and professional lenses, Witherite takes her time capturing shots of pets with her team of highly qualified and experienced professionals. She brings cutting-edge techniques and cutting-edge industry grade equipment to every engagement to ensure her clients receive high-quality photos that are crisp and include plenty of details. Instead of using your smartphone to capture your pet, Witherite?s skills and talent will prove to deliver invaluable images that allow pet owners to keep the pictures for a lifetime and put them on display.

Although pets are unpredictable in terms of their behavior or actions, Barbara?s experience working with different types of animals provides her with the skills to know how to get dogs, cats, and even birds to cooperate during the session. She can also do sets to ensure there are a variety of poses and action shots to enjoy. Editing is included in the services, which enhances the lighting and colors in each image to ensure the photos look professional.

Samples of Barbara Witherite?s work and portfolio are currently available online on her website. She currently serves clients in Dallas and the surrounding region. Her services can be obtained by contacting her through her website or by calling her office.
