Mazzeo Law Barristers & Solicitors, a law firm based in Vaughan, Ontario, Canada, has announced that they are offering their services on child support law. Paying for child support to a dependent child is a mandatory obligation in Ontario. Thus, the team of lawyers at Mazzeo Law Barristers & Solicitors are ready to help ensure that the obligation is complied with for the sake of the child.

A spokesperson for Mazzeo Law Barristers & Solicitors says, ?In Ontario, there are federal and provincial Child Support Guidelines, which outline the amount of child support payable, based on the number of children and the income of the paying parent. While the courts do have the power to deviate from the Child Support Guidelines in specific circumstances, we work hard to achieve the best possible outcome for your child.?

The law firm not only provides the Child Support Agreement Vaughan residents are looking for. They offer various services on family law in Ontario. These include filing for divorce, divorce mediation services, spousal support, spousal maintenance services, and prenuptial agreement services.

The lawyers at Mazzeo Law Barristers & Solicitors will help their clients understand their child support options and then offer them several strategies for ensuring that they obtain their ideal result. For those who need to back their claims in court, the law firm offers a skilled child support lawyer who has several years of courtroom experience.

Aside from providing services on child support law, the firm can also help with legal separation or divorce proceedings. In legal separation or divorce, it is important for clients to clearly understand the process. The signing of separation papers or divorce papers is essential when separating from a long-term partner. Thus, it is essential to have skilled legal guidance during the process. This will ensure that various issues, such as property rights or custody and child support agreements, can all be resolved ideally to ensure that the client is able to move forward after the separation or divorce.

Also as important as child support is spousal support. Spousal support law ensures that a spouse will not suffer any undue hardship or a marked change in lifestyle because of a separation or divorce. However, unlike child support, there are no provincial or federal guidelines for spousal support. Nevertheless, there are the Spousal Support Advisory Guidelines, which are considered by the court in determining the eligibility of a spouse for spousal support. What the law firm can provide is expert guidance on spousal support options, whether the client is being asked to provide support or wants to make a support claim.

For those who are going to get married, they may also want to consult with a matrimonial lawyer. They can work with this lawyer in protecting their assets and drawing up agreements with their future spouse. The team of lawyers at Mazzeo Law have significant experience in all elements of matrimony, from supporting couples in creating property agreements and prenups, to guiding those who are undergoing the divorce process.

The law firm can help couples who are about to get married draw up their prenuptial agreements. The team of lawyers can help clients in creating prenuptial agreements that will protect their rights to property, financial assets, and children in case of a separation in the future.
