May 10, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The New Jersey based Ethos Spa, Skin & Laser Center is pleased to invite the residents of New Jersey to indulge in their skin care and laser hair removal services. As excess hair in the wrong places can make anyone uncomfortable and wearing light clothing can be completely ruined by the presence of unsightly hair, Ethos Spa offers a solution for those looking for a long term solution to unwanted body hair. The spa also offers a number of other services and procedures to try and help clients feel more comfortable in their own bodies.

"Unwanted hair can be a pesky confidence buster," says Ethos Spa. "Whether you were born with hairy toes or are experiencing hormone changes that are causing hair to grow where it shouldn't, taking that first step to remove unwanted hair for the long term can drastically change the way you feel about yourself and your life."

Women, on average, spend 72 days shaving their legs over the course of their lives. Men spend an average of 45 days over their lives shaving. Both endure the pain and inconvenience of shaving, waxing and plucking, enduring rough stubble, ingrown hairs, irritated skin, and a variety of nicks and cuts. Laser hair removal, however, provides long-term removal of this hair and gives one the freedom to do more with their time. It also does not damage the skin the same way shaving does, allowing one the benefit of healthier, smoother skin while also boosting their confidence.

Of all the hair removal strategies available on the market, laser hair removal is the safest and most efficient. It's also long-term," affirms Ethos. "Toss your shavers, waxes, and depilatory creams in the trash where they belong, and contact us at the Ethos Spa, Skin & Laser Center." In addition to laser hair removal, Ethos offers a number of services to help both men and women bring their desired inner selves to the surface. Botox injections, for instance, can do a lot more than just smooth wrinkles. Conditions like back pain, excessive sweating, chronic migraines, twitching eyelids, and more can all be treated with Botox injections. Ethos Spa retains a number of trained, skilled professionals who can help clients find the best treatment for their particular case. As the spa's site states, "Our skilled and certified team at Ethos Spa, New Jersey can advise you on the procedure and help determine if it best suits your needs and health."

Ethos Spa also offers Brazilian butt lifts to help clients shape their rear as they see fit. "Improve your bottom line with a Brazilian Butt Lift from My Ethos Spa," says Ethos. "Using your own natural tissues, NJ Brazilian Butt Lift will increase firmness, add volume, and create beautiful contours between your waist, thighs, and buttocks."

A number of clients have walked through the doors of Ethos Spa and many of them have left positive reviews after receiving high quality service. One review by Maria A. states, "I am very pleased with Ethos Spa. The doctors are knowledgeable and experienced. The wait time is never very long and the staff is very pleasant. Very clean environment which is always at the top of my list. Highly recommended."

Another review by Alexis M. states, "Very professional staff, nice facility, and most importantly, the doctor was very caring, personable, and thoughtful in his recommendations. I did not feel like he was pushy or upselling me on anything. Very happy with the outcome and will definitely return as a satisfied customer."

Feeling confident in one's own body is one of the most important things in life, and Ethos Spa, Skin & Laser Center is committed to helping its clients find ways to feel comfortable in their own skin. With laser hair removal, Botox treatments and many other treatments available for both men and women, Ethos is able to fix any flaws and help clients achieve the look they want.
