May 09, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Dependable Homebuyers in San Antonio has come up with the perfect resolution for house flippers who may find themselves in over their heads. It is very common for flippers to find that they have gotten in over their heads when it comes to excessive repairs on a home. In many instances, they may also find that the repairs are far more expensive than they initially thought they would be. This leaves them wanting to get rid of the house as quickly as possible. These types of situations are where a company like Dependable Homebuyers comes into play.

Dependable Homebuyers will make a reasonable offer on properties regardless of their conditions. This includes those that are mid-project. It does not matter if the wiring is incomplete, the walls have been stripped down completely, or the overall job site is a complete mess. The company provides clients with a way to get out from under a project they feel like they are sinking in.

The area of San Antonio has many properties that are prime opportunities for investors. These opportunities make it easy for investors to purchase homes. This has created an influx of homes that are partially finished and then the projects are at a standstill. Selling the property to a company like Dependable Homebuyers allows the investor to get the cash they need for the property, opening the door for them to invest in another property that needs fewer repairs.

Dependable Homebuyers has built a reputation as the go-to company for clients looking to sell their home quickly for a variety of reasons. They understand that sometimes people are faced with life circumstances such as the need for relocation, divorce, or even an unwanted inheritance. No matter what the situation may be, Dependable Homebuyers is prepared to help their clients get out from under their unwanted property.

In dealing with Dependable Homebuyers, clients can rest assured that they are working with a company who is fair and makes each and every client a top priority. They are experienced in working with many different types of situations and realize the importance of moving along quickly. Dependable Homebuyers differs greatly from working with a traditional real estate agent. Once the initial appointment is set up, they take a look at the property in order to prepare the best offer possible for the owner. Within 24 hours, they present the offer to the homeowner. At that time, they are not placed under any obligation to accept the offer. The company does not put pressure on them regarding the time frame. In fact, they encourage their clients to take their time and make sure that they are making the right decision for their situation. Should the client decide to accept the offer, closing is set up to take place within 7 days. This allows the owner the freedom to move on from the property and go in the direction they choose.
