May 15, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Mesilla, New Mexico based Concrete Floor Pros is pleased to invite contractors, designers, and homeowners to visit their new directory website and begin fostering communication between company and client. The website will be used to promote the growth of concrete flooring professionals in the US, and is an opportunity for businesses in the industry to present themselves to a distinguished clientele through a platform that boasts astounding numbers of daily traffic.

The website already lists many local contractors throughout the US, and the company is constantly adding new contractors to their ranks. The platform promises to be a way for contractors and designers to be easily found by potential clients, as well as a powerful tool for homeowners looking for the ideal contractor to execute their vision for their homes.

A representative of Concrete Floor Pros spoke about the company's expectations and motivation in the industry, as well as the plans for the platform's future, saying, "We know how difficult it can be for local concrete professionals to find a steady flow of customers. If it's a new contractor, it's hard to have a great online presence that will attract new clients. Even for well-established companies, getting a steady flow of clients can be a headache. With our platform, we aim to provide a place where both new and old companies can make themselves be seen, and easily contacted, by potential customers. We have plans to expand our services all throughout the country, offering the same opportunity to each different community."

Concrete Floor Pros' platform promises to be an important resource for all parties involved, as the website is designed to be used by more than contractors and designers alone. On the company's website, non-industry members of different communities throughout the country will be able to browse a wide selection of trusted contractors, all listed in the same place. This will allow clients to choose a suitable service that fits their needs the best.

Furthermore, its wide selection of concrete flooring contractors are sorted in different categories of service. These categories include those who provide polished concrete, stained concrete, stamped concrete, concrete countertops, decorative concrete, epoxy floor coatings, and concrete overlays. Every contractor listed on Concrete Floor Pros' platform is a certified and licensed concrete professional, with extensive expertise in the field.

The company provides essential information regarding the contractor for each of its featured listings, including the service that the company in question provides, their exact physical location or premises, and their contact information. To ensure the client's satisfaction when making their selection, the website supports a review function where clients who have contracted a company's services in the past can share their experiences. Through this, Concrete Floor Pros is able to ensure that its users can find the right contractor or designer to perform their desired project from a list of tried and tested companies.

Currently boasting a registry that exceeds 3800 contractors, the website has been growing steadily since its launch. The company representative encouraged contractors from all over the country to visit Concrete Floor Pros' website to either add their company to the listing or claim one that may already be within the directory.

The representative affirmed that, "We offer one of the best options to promote any company that specializes in concrete finishing. Through our platform, we deliver the best promoting service where potential clients will be able to find your company easily, with the knowledge that every listing under our directory is a certified, licensed professional. We even the field for every contractor in the community; after that, it's all up to the service that the company provides."

Concrete Floor Pros offers both free and paid listing services, allowing contractors to claim a listing of their company that may already be featured on the website.

For more information regarding their services, customers may contact CJ Barks of Concrete Floor Pros. They may also visit the company's website, where further contact information can be found. Additionally, interested parties may connect with the company through their Instagram channel and other social media pages, where they regularly share any relevant news regarding their ongoing projects.
