Dependable Homebuyers is pleased to announce that they are now buying distressed homes throughout Fort Myers. A distressed property is a property that is in the process of foreclosure, or in the midst of being sold by the lender. It is a misconception that the homeowner no longer has options at such a point. Dependable Homebuyers would like to make it clear to homeowners that this just isn?t the case. Even during foreclosure, or during any process in which the lender is attempting a sale, a homeowner can still find a way to get the money they need for their property.

Dependable Homebuyers has built a stellar reputation for offering exceptional prices for homes of all shapes, sizes, and conditions. Their reputation is such that regardless of the condition of a property, Dependable Homebuyers can help. They have purchased hoarder homes, multi-family homes, and many other different types of property. Regardless of what they are purchasing, the process remains consistent. This would be offering fair market prices for homes, regardless of their condition. This is backed up by the promise that a homeowner can get their money direct deposited in as few as two weeks. This is a stark contrast to the convoluted challenges that make up the Fort Myers real estate market.

Dependable Homebuyers allows homeowners to sidestep much of the traditional process of selling a home in Fort Myers. This is particularly true in the sense of making various improvements to a home. When selling on the traditional real estate market, the homeowner can find themselves responsible for making dozens upon dozens of improvements. This can prove to be time consuming. It can also prove to be costly, particularly if a range of repairs are necessary. Improving a home to enhance its potential appeal can be an enormous drain on the homeowner. If they need to sell quickly for one reason or another, this aspect of the process can prove to be infuriating.

Dependable Homebuyers does not care about the current condition of a home. This is something they strive to make clear to current and potential sellers. Dependable Homebuyers first drew attention from sellers for promising to buy a home in any condition, including hoarder homes, or homes that have experienced substantial damage to the foundation, or some other aspect. This has proven to be the case, over the course of the past few years. Reviews from sellers have made it clear that Dependable Homebuyers is a legitimate company, backing up everything they promise. From offering fair market prices, to ensuring a homeowner can receive their money in as few as two weeks, this company has earned high marks from anyone who has worked with them. Here's a recent press release they published.

This is perhaps because Dependable Homebuyers is about more than just buying homes. This is a company also well known for their love of buying and restoring homes. They have proven to bring this passion, as well as their professional insight, to every town and city in which the company currently operates. This is a national homebuying company that believes in the homeowner. For more information about the company and the services they provide visit their website at https://id.dependablehomebuyers.com.
