

Homeowners can Sell their Houses before Banks Seize the Properties for Default in Ocean City

May 20, 2019

May 20, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Banks compel defaulting homeowners to give up their houses. Every bank has its own policy but all will sooner or later issue a notice of eviction, clearly implying they are seizing the asset that has been used as collateral for the home loan. Mortgage default is very common. Many people in Ocean City fail to repay their mortgage on time due to various reasons. The specific reason could be beyond the control of a homeowner. Banks do not pay heed to the legitimacy of the reason. They simply harass their clients, levy fines for late payment and make the going tougher for homeowners. In the event homeowners are compelled to give up their houses, it is better to sell the properties before losing the assets entirely.

Dependable Homebuyers has started buying houses from homeowners who have defaulted on their mortgage payments. It may be a sustained default or a homeowner may realize that keeping up with subsequent payments will become harder. Instead of waiting for the bank to levy the fine and then issue one notice after another, homeowners can initiate the sale and secure a return. Every homeowner puts up a down payment and then keeps repaying the home loan till they cannot any more, usually due to financial constraints. If the bank takes back the property, then the owner loses the house and gets nothing in return. Evan Roberts and his team at Dependable Homebuyers can assure a return.

The We Buy Houses company based in Ocean City buys residential properties in any condition. They are also interested in houses in all locations across the city. They have some buying criteria but those are basic and expected. If a house suits those criteria, the real estate investment company shall make an offer in as few as twenty four hours. The company can also close the sale in as few as seven days. This works in favor of homeowners who are running against time. Banks are usually slow in responding to loan requests and while offering other financial services. They are prompt while acting on defaults. They will move in sooner than later and take possession of the house. Here's a recent press release they published.

Evan Roberts of Dependable Homebuyers says that his company can close the sale in a week from the date a homeowner accepts their purchase offer. The offer is the fairest price a homeowner can get. The company does not charge any fee. There is no commission or closing cost. Homeowners who have defaulted on their mortgages can try and sell their houses in the open market, by hiring a real estate agent or looking for a buyer themselves. This process is long and uncertain. One must spend a lot of money throughout the process. No real estate agent can guarantee a sale. The buyers have their own demanding preferences and sellers do not have much choice but to conform. The alternative presented by Dependable Homebuyers is simpler, surefire and more rewarding, not just monetarily but also from the perspective of time and effort.
