Malika Jafrin Beauty has recently updated their professional Kabuki makeup brush set, which is available for purchase on Amazon. The new set now comes with full instructions on how to use each of the different brushes included in the pack. As it contains 10 different brushes, people with little to no makeup experience may find the kit slightly overwhelming without these instructions.

"Our 10 piece professional Kabuki makeup brush set has been popular for quite some time now," says Amelia Zara Asad from Malika Jafrin. "However, we were getting messages from customers stating that they were unsure what each brush was for. As a result, we have updated our pack so that it includes an instructional sheet for each of the different brushes."

Malika Jafran is an international makeup artist business that has long focused on offering bridal makeup services. Additionally, they offer pro class makeup training for those aspiring to be makeup professionals themselves. The pro classes focus on specific areas of makeup, including Asian bridal makeup, an intensive professional makeup and hair course, one-to-one, hair workshops and more. During these classes, the Kabuki makeup brush set is also used. The workshops have been very positively reviewed by previous students. "All I can say is her work is amazing; as you can see the way you learn is fun and it's an experience you will never forget," says makeup artist Chandni Thakrar.

Malika Jafrin has also started a public Facebook page, where people can be kept up to date with current developments, new product launches, special offers, competitions and more. The fan page is also an opportunity for customers to ask questions about the products and how to use them, as well as to connect to others with similar interests. The page is also used by Malika Jafrin to raise important social issues, such as the importance of inner beauty and campaigns against online and real life bullying.

Malika is a highly respected artist, and this is also reflected in the trust people place in her makeup brush set. "Malika didn't just meet my expectation, she exceeded it," says Haleema Rasul. "She made sure the make up not only looked good but matched my personality. She is one of the sweetest and most humble make up artists I have come across."
