A customer shared his experience with the company, saying, "I love the expertise and professionalism of this company. I've heard nightmare stories from friends of contractors and never experienced any with L.A. Contractors Redondo Beach. The owner and his assistant met with me almost the same day I called for an estimate and they came with a very impressive packet about their company. When the remodellings were completed I needed a few details done, and they came afterwards a couple more times to finish these. I'm very happy and impressed with this company, and I highly recommend them to anyone looking for a company offering these services."

A resident who had only recently moved to the area themselves wrote, "We had a great experience with L.A. Contractors Redondo Beach. There were a few reparations and renovations that needed to be done in the new property. The estimate that they gave beat any other company in the area, so we signed the contract the same day. They detailed every part of the service that would be done in the contract so there would be no misunderstandings. They did a wonderful job fulfilling the renovations exactly as was expected, and they turned this new house into our home."
