Chicago, Illinois based Video One Productions is pleased to announce that they recently reached a perfect score of 5/5 Stars on the Google review platform. They are an award-winning specialist in Chicago video productions that ranks among the best production companies in the area.

"I had a wonderful experience working with Irwin and Ryan from Video One," wrote Tim Donovan, regarding his experience using the specialists' video editing and recording services. He continued, "We hired Video One Productions to compose a corporate case study video of one of our clients. The shoot was effortless and the team did a great job on editing. We will totally be working with Video One again. We highly recommend them."

Irwin Myers, whom many reviewers compliment directly for his work, is the President and Producer at Video One Productions. He is an award-winning producer with more than 25 years of experience across multiple areas of the video production industry. Myers expressed his and his company's appreciation towards the support that the Chicago residents have shown them, saying that, "Our main priority has always been to deliver a product that satisfies our customers. When we read reviews like these, it motivates us to work even harder."

"Video One Productions were great to work with from start to finish," wrote Robert Turnauckas, another satisfied customer. "Video One recently created a marketing video for my company. They are a very talented and professional group. The entire production crew, including the Managing Director, was very helpful, creative, and patient in suggesting ideas on how to create and produce the perfect marketing piece. My company was very happy with them and would use them again in the future. I would highly recommend them for their work."

Video One Productions is proud to offer a complete catalogue of services, with their most famous being their video production and editing expertise. The video specialists also go the extra mile, giving their clients additional options to accommodate more specific and unique requirements. These include Corporate Video Production, Event Videos, Promotional Videos, and Training Videos. The company affirms that, when working on a client's behalf, Video One Productions will take care of script writing, HD video production, location light and sound, and other enhancements for a professional video.

This service is often offered in conjunction with Video One Production's video editing capabilities, and is the second most frequently requested by Chicago filmmakers. The company also provides a variety of post-production services, which include video editing, motion graphics, digitizing, DVD authoring, and DVD and CD disc duplication and replication.

Video One Productions is always looking to expand what they can do for their clients, which has prompted the company to begin running Drone Video & Photography sessions when requested. The company is excited to explore the new avenues that this opens during future productions, with Myers describing this service as, "The next greatest thing in video recording." With the use of drones, the company's crew are able to capture footage from an angle that wouldn't be possible otherwise, and the unique nature of the shots makes them an easy favourite with audiences.

Myers stated that this service can be best used in marketing videos, saying, "The first few seconds of any video are the most important time to catch people's attention. There's nothing like drone video to do the trick. Imagine your marketing video opening with a view of the sky, then sweeping down to reveal your building, then appearing to fly through the building into your business and giving viewers a visual tour. Something like this will definitely catch even the most distracted viewer's attention, and we are capable of it."

Video One production has invited anyone who may be interested in learning more about their services to visit their website. There, the Chicago video specialists have a thorough description of every service that they provide. Furthermore, new clients may read the company's Yelp reviews, where Video One Productions maintains a near-perfect rating of 4.5 Stars.
