Recent events have sparked the nutraceuticals and supplement industry as the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) released a statement advising companies to stop distributing supplements which contain BMPEA. This information, shared by Missouri's Phenobestin.com, is seen as pivotal toward increasing awareness among the buying public.

Phenobestin.com is a company that distributes weight loss supplements. Its products are 100% approved by the FDA, whose recent statement encourages consumers to avoid weight loss products and energy supplements that contain beta-methylphenethylamine or BMPEA. Individuals wanting to learn more about Phenobestin.com's dietary supplements should be aware of FDA's recent warning letter. A health consultant at Phenobestin.com explains further: "The FDA's warning letter tackled a lot of disadvantages of using or promoting supplements with BMPEA," the consultant stated. "These products?also called 'super caffeine'?are basically harmful, even close to the dangerous drug amphetamine. Most dietary and energy supplements in the market contain this ingredient. Fortunately, our weight loss product Phentermine is BMPEA-free, and 100% approved by the FDA."

Individuals who would like to lose weight should consult a physician first before trying any weight loss product. Phenobestin's main ingredient for its weight loss products is Phentermine Hydrochloride, an effective and safe appetite suppressant. It works by forcing the body to break down fat cells by activating the neurons that block hunger cravings. The supplement is prescribed by doctors and is available at any drug store. Many weight loss products, such as PhenObestin 37.5 Extra Strength, can be effective dietary supplements. Click here to see more information about Phenobestin.com's products.

The FDA is on a continuous mission to keep consumers secure when it comes to the supplements and weight loss products they are taking. Products are being reviewed and tested consistently. Phenobestin.com, on the other hand, continues to create and develop safe weight loss products. "We understand the need for proven dietary supplements, and our company is committed to making sure that these demands are met. We take pride in our products' safety, as they have all been screened by the FDA and have met its qualifications and standards," said Phenobestin.com's health consultant.
