The RezExpert system offers dynamic setup interfaces to comply with the requirements of some of the more complex businesses, such as resort networks, managed communities, and owner revenue sharing properties. The system can be used for length and width sensitive units, channel connections, yield management, multiple vehicle types, golf tee times, unique lodge and experience packaging ideal for tours, rentals, and a broad range of other verticals.

Meanwhile, on the Campfire Travel website, various articles are available that can offer suggestions, ideas, and advice to campers and RV enthusiasts. For example, there is the recently published article that discusses five reasons to go camping. These are the fact that it is good for physical health; it offers an affordable vacation; it helps reset a person?s sleep cycle; it allows the person to get totally unplugged, and it allows a person to explore new environments. Some of the things that can be done while camping include fishing, playing Frisbee, wildlife identification, geocaching, swimming, biking, bird and animal watching, scavenger hunts for children, and building campfires.

The Campfire Travel website also provides various tips. For instance, a recently published article offers advice on what things to cut down while going on vacation in an RV. These are extravagant food particularly gourmet, canned food, heavy tool kits, water, and heavy objects. Water is essential but bringing too much of it can really dampen the experience.

The online magazine also offers some recipes that campers may want to follow for their eating pleasure while camping. These include the Greek Spinach Rice, Grilled Ham and Asparagus, Hawaiian BBQ Pork Walking Taco, Fiery Campfire Veggies, No Bake Nutella S?mores Granola Bars, Campfire Breakfast Burger, coffee recipes, Breakfast Shakshouka, Cowboy Hot Dogs, and Pinnacles Scramble.

Campfire Travel also offers suggestions and advice on camping equipment. These include portable grills; RV accessories; sleeping bags and sleeping pads; and must-have camping gear like tents, poles, stakes, tarps, and tie-downs.
