Castle Rock, CO based Comfort Keepers of Castle Rock recently published a new video to celebrate the National Day Of Joy. In the video, the company outlines some of the traits that set them apart from competitors in the area, and invite the community to learn more by getting in touch with the staff at Comfort Keepers of Castle Rock.

Katie Coleman, a representative of Comfort Keepers, states, "On this special day where we celebrate the joy in our lives throughout the country. It is important that we keep our seniors close to our hearts, always looking after them. We must make sure that they are receiving the care that they deserve, from qualified professionals who are able to give them the best treatment."

With home care being one of the most commonly chosen forms of senior care, Coleman says that relatives of elders all have one concern in common: the difficulty that they face in finding a reliable, trustworthy care provider for their loved ones. This concern has magnified with time as more emerging studies continue to show a rising trend of elder abuse in nursing care facilities; this is one of the most notorious factors behind the popularity of Home Care.

Comfort Keepers Home Care is a leading provider of in-home care services that works with the Castle Rock community and its surrounding areas. The company states that their expert caregivers provide a customized senior care plan, which is developed in accordance with the unique needs a senior may have. "We help seniors and other adults live an independent, quality life," affirms the Castle Rock Home Care company.

The assistance provided by Comfort Keepers covers a wide range of services, all of which are carried out by specialists in the respective fields. These services for seniors include respite care, meal preparation, Alzheimer's and dementia care, veteran financing assistance, companionship, housekeeping, and in-home health care related services. This allows relatives to remain at ease, knowing that seniors can stay in their home and have a care plan that adapts to the help and companionship they need.

Comfort Keepers says that they have a designated Director of Nursing who does all the initial assessments for senior clients to ensure that each senior gets the personalized care that they need. Based on the care needs assessment, the Director may recommend medical and/or non-medical care. This is part of what makes them so unique among their peers, as no other company in the area offers services of this manner.

The company seeks to provide the senior's relatives with the security of knowing that their loved one's care needs are being thoroughly evaluated for the best and most fitting care plan. To ease relatives' concerns even further, the home care specialists complement this service with free of charge, no obligation, meetings with the prospective clients in their own home. The purpose of these meetings with a Registered Nurse is to come up with solutions to the current and ongoing challenges that a senior and their relatives are facing.

The efforts of the home care specialists have also not gone unnoticed by the community. Many local residents share their experiences with Comfort Keepers Home Care in Castle Rock through different review platforms, placing the company among the top rated in the area for home care.

A review showcased by Comfort Keepers through their website says, "I wish to acknowledge the superb contributions to my mother's safety and well-being made by the people of Comfort Keepers. They did all of the preparations needed and arranged for her care on very short notice. Every caregiver who came to the house was well prepared for her difficult work, dealing with every situation easily. Every one of them was compassionate and skilled, and added a unique touch to her care. I highly recommend Comfort Keepers for their excellent services."
