MOBILE, AL. ? All Clear Plumbing & Drain has a list of plumbing tools every homeowner needs. The Mobile plumbing company shares that homeowners should have plungers, drain augers, faucets, and openers as plumbing tools.

All Clear believes that homeowners should have plungers because they remove drains quickly and efficiently. Homeowners should have more than one plunger on hand if they face clogs in more than just the toilet. Having a separate plunger for the sink can help remove easy clogs.

All Clear recommends having a drain auger in case a plunger does not do the job well enough. Drain augers can be used for sinks, toilets, and showers, but they have to be the right augers. Homeowners can find drain augers at hardware stores for around $40. These are more efficient than plungers which are the main reason they cost more.

A customer named Katherine stated, "Great professional employees, from Amanda on the phones to every tech that has come out. Very timely and thorough. They are serious about honoring their 30-day policy and sticking with it until the job is right."

All Clear suggests homeowners have a shower or bathtub faucet in case their current faucet leaks. Having one as a backup make the replacement process less stressful. Replacing a faucet is not typically complicated, but it can be difficult for those inexperienced in replacing faucets.

The last thing All Clear recommends homeowners have is an opener. An opener is a drain cleaner that is usually chemical. There are some natural drain cleaners that can be homemade, but these usually end up causing more harm than good because of a wrong ingredient or too much of an ingredient. Chemical openers can still get the job done.

Homeowners who do not own these supplies should consider getting them according to the Mobile plumbers. However, they can always call All Clear Plumbing & Drain for plumbing needs and emergencies.
