Alfa Romeo of Danbury, a luxury car dealership located in Danbury, Connecticut, has announced that they have a number of Alfa Romeo lease deals that are available through the end of June, 2019. The dealership serves customers in Danbury, as well as outlying areas including Bethel, Sherman, Gaylorsville, New Milford, Ridgefield, Washington, and other locations throughout the state.

Chris Gavin, a representative for the luxury car dealership says, "We have a wide range of beautiful Alfa Romeos that are available for lease or purchase. We recommend that anyone who is interested in a lease visit us before these specials run out. Customers can visit us online to get more information about the financial details of an Alfa Romeo lease and to look at images of the specific models that we have available."

Gavin states that the dealership has a number of popular models available, including the Giulia, the Stelvio and the 4C Spider. The dealership's website has images of these and other models, as well as a break down of the cost and financing options for those who are interested in leasing a new or used luxury vehicle.

"Many people believe that driving an Alfa Romeo is reserved for those who make millions of dollars every year," says Gavin. "Times have changed and today, people of all walks of life drive these beautiful vehicles, and our team can help customers to find the right model and at the right price for any number of needs."

Gavin states that the dealership has a specially trained and experienced financing team who can help customers to find the specific model that best fits into their budget. He urges those who are interested however, to contact them soon as their Giulia lease special, along with other leasing specials for their line of Alfa Romeos may be gone by the end of the month.

Gavin says that their current specials for leasing a new or used Alfa Romeo will end on June 30, but he did not state whether a new special would take its place, only that those who are interested in driving one of these vehicles contact the dealership soon. He adds that many of their most popular models move quickly, so customers who have a specific model in mind will need to contact the dealership before that preferred model

Gavin adds that the dealership has a team of highly skilled, professionally trained and experienced staff members who can help customers to choose the perfect model for their needs, and he adds that their team includes a special financing team who can walk customers through the process of leasing and help them to find the special that best meets their budgeting needs. He states that their Stelvio lease offer, along with the other offers provided by the dealership will not last forever and that anyone who has ever dreamed of driving one of these vehicles should visit the dealership in person or online to learn more.

Alfa Romeo of Danbury has a long list of satisfied customers in their past and Gavin states that this is due, in part to their stellar customer service. He states that the entire team goes out of their way to make their customers feel welcome and that their service includes a service department who has the training and skills necessary to handle any issues that customers may be experiencing with their Alfa Romeo.

Those who are interested in learning more about the specials that the dealership has available for June should visit them in person or on their website. The website offers detailed information about the models that are available, including all of the luxurious features of each one and a break down of the pricing structure. Gavin urges anyone with specific questions to contact the dealership directly in person or by phone or email at any time during their normal business hours to speak with an Alfa Romeo professional.
