June 04, 2019 -

Hertford, England based New Skills Academy, an award-winning online school in the UK, is pleased to announce that they now offer a number of new online courses for the North American markets. The company is known for offering a diverse range of online courses, many of which are Continuing Professional Development (CPD) certified.

As noted on the company's website, New Skills Academy currently boasts a catalogue of more than 500 short-courses online. "Whether you are entering a new job and need to develop your skills or if you are a seasoned professional who requires additional training, we have the perfect course for your specific needs," says Chris Morgan, CEO of New Skills Academy. From multiple courses (two courses in one) to short courses (3, 5, 7-hour courses), he elaborates that New Skills Academy provides Admin, HR, Finance, Business, Education, Entertainment, Horticultural, Medical, Beauty, Social Care, Tourism, and Personal Development programs, among others.

Morgan also notes that many people ask, "Are New Skills Academy courses recognized?" His answer is to assure them that the courses all have the proper certification required. In fact, he points out that students who passed their online courses receive certifications and diplomas that are recognized by the CPD (Continuing Professional Development body in the UK).

In addition, Morgan also highlights the benefits of choosing New Skills Academy over its competitors. Aside from offering a wide range of online courses, he points out that all of their courses come with a tailored and easy-to-understand syllabus created by experts and professionals in education. He also points out that their students get to enjoy the flexibility of their programs and they can study their lessons anytime and anywhere they want. "You only need a PC, a tablet, and an internet connection, and you can study at your own convenience," he says.

Upon finishing the course, a verifiable record of qualification is available for viewing and can be accessed 24/7 online. Furthermore, Morgan says that they provide tutor support to their students who need assistance with their courses and, most importantly, their programs are certified by a number of internationally recognized institutions.

"New Skills Academy reviews our course content on a frequent basis to ensure that they are up to date and valid for the current climate. This is especially important in the education sector where legislation regarding child protection is updated often," notes Morgan.

New Skills Academy also has two high-profile awards under its belt. In 2016, they won the Best Business Award, and they were recognized as an Outstanding Business by the Global Business Excellence Awards in 2017. They were also previously featured in mainstream media outlets, including Vogue, BBC, The Guardian, and The Telegraph, to name a few.

Those looking for a flexible and affordable way to acquire new skills and knowledge may reach out to New Skills Academy by visiting their website. Interested parties may also check out New Skills Academy reviews on Trustpilot.

Angela Petta said, "I truly appreciate that New Skills Academy offers certified online programs. If you are the type of person who can study on your own, requires little to no interaction, enjoys reading, and are a self-starter and a go-getter, then this is for you. I recently completed my first course and I absolutely loved the program. The course is full of useful information combined with history, modernization, and up-to-date trends that keep the student in the know. I highly recommend New Skills Academy."

Marc Crofts, in a Trustpilot review, said, "I am currently studying a pet sitting/dog walking course and a Fitness Level 3 diploma at New Skills Academy. I can honestly say that I am really enjoying both programs."

The course content is very informative, well structured, and easy to understand with tests made both during and at the end of each module. I am looking forward to receiving my certificates once I completed my courses. New Skills Academy enables me to learn new skills at home and at my own convenience. Highly recommended.?
