

Nufabrx Sends Pillowcases To Little Dresses In Africa

August 17, 2015

August 17, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Nufabrx, a Seattle, WA based company is pleased to announce a partnership with Little Dresses for Africa, in which used Nufabrx pillowcases will be shipped to the charity to be made into clothing for children in Africa.

Clients who wish to donate their pillowcases to Little Dresses for Africa can simply return their pillowcases to Nufabrx. Those who wish to donate will receive a coupon code for their next purchase so that they can replace their pillowcase at a discount.

"We are happy to have found such a worthy charity to help, and we look forward to seeing the Little Dresses charity thrive," says Jordan Schindler, founder of Nufabrx. The Nufabrx pillowcase promotes healthier skin by using an innovative nano-encapsulation technology to embed serum into the fibers of the pillowcase. As the user sleeps, a mixture of lavender, tea tree oil, lemon balm, and wintergreen oils are released into the skin, leaving it clearer and healthier.

The Nufabrx Pillowcase for Blemish Prone Skin was first introduced in 2013 as a result of a personal frustration with acne breakouts. Dermatologists often recommend washing pillowcases every morning, or at least several times each week to remove bacteria that can lead to skin irritation and breakouts. The Nufabrx pillowcase is designed to be washed once a week, and the oils embedded in the cases last for up to 6 months.

"Little Dresses is a wonderful charity, and I'm happy to be able to send my used Nufabrx pillowcases to children in need," says Ellen, a Nufabrx customer. "I have been using Nufabrx pillowcases for about a year, and it's great to know that the high quality material can be used by others as clothing."
