

Kitchen Renovators In Sydney Introduce Stellar Design To Budget Project In Bronte

June 11, 2019

June 11, 2019 -
Randwick, New South Wales based Blue Tea Kitchens and Bathrooms recently completed a challenging kitchen build in Bronte, NSW. The designers had to overcome many difficulties during this project, as they had to work within a tight budget as well as a very limited and awkward space.

Nadia Hursky, a representative of the company, says, "The design brief was challenging, as the spatial configuration was small, had odd angles, and plumbing details that could not be adjusted. The client wanted a sophisticated and airy beach vibe that had a timeless appeal. They were also working on a tight budget."

The design specialists state that they had to employ many different cost-saving ideas to be able to complete the project on time and to a strict budget. This was only possible due to the extensive knowledge and experience that the award-winning company employs in all their tasks. The team had to make some bold design decisions while staying true to the vision their customer had in mind.

Blue Tea cleverly introduced a standard sized cabinetry height which blended in perfectly with the other aspects of the construction and greatly reduced the cost of custom-made cabinetry. The most budget-friendly appliances from a well known appliance company were chosen to fill its spaces, leaving some more room to spend in other areas. The team also decided to implement the least expensive standard stone colour, which was designed by Talostone, as well as a tile splashback design to match. This was one of the most crucial aspects where they managed to cut expenses to fit the budget.

The top kitchen renovators in Sydney state that these bold decisions were put together after much thought, and many discussions, within the team. The main priority was to find out which areas would be the best to save funds in, without compromising the final look of the project. Such tactics allowed Blue Tea to choose outstandingly light features, giving the place the sophisticated look that the customer desired, as well as a Meir bronze tap that added a subtly stylish look.

After all of the budget decisions were taken care of, the team had yet to face one of the most challenging stages of the project. The kitchen had a difficult layout, forcing the design team to deal with difficult sharp angles and very limited room. ?A curved island softened the space, while also opening up the entire layout,? said the team?s lead project designer. They asserted that, thanks to the opening created by the small island, the team was able to spatially integrate the living room, thereby including the kitchen as a feature.

The design team wanted to add texture and depth to the kitchen; the kitchen island became the tactile feature of the space "The subtle texture on the island is tactile and creates contrast.? Further depth was added by building a profile on the cabinetry doors ?A 20mm profile on the cabinetry door added further depth and interest to the design,? said the lead designer.

This entire project showcases some of the reasons why Blue Tea Kitchens & Bathrooms is recognized as one of the best kitchen designers in New South Wales. The company relies on a small team of professionals that each specialize in diverse areas relevant to different aspects of design. Each member of the team boasts a remarkable history in the industry, earning their place in Blue Tea by sheer merit. They are all committed to ensuring that each project receives the individual attention it deserves to meet the client's expectations.
