New Platform Launched To Help Customers Find Appliance Repair Companies In Florida

June 11, 2019

June 11, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Following the success of their real estate photographers directory, Fort Myers, Florida based Alchemy Digital Media has now launched a new appliance repair directory platform known as "Appliance Repair Near Me."

This new platform will be backed up by the expertise and extensive knowledge of the well-established team at Alchemy Digital Media. Similar to their first project, the platform seeks to ease the process of finding a reliable appliance repair company for members in the community. The company states that Appliance Repair Near Me is intended to address one of the main concerns that customers have when looking for suitable repair companies: a lack of information and references regarding the company in question. The platform solves this problem by collating all the relevant information any customer would need in one easy-to-browse online location.

Earl Gardner, a spokesperson at Alchemy Digital Media, states, "Many times, when a home appliance begins to fail, a person does not even know where to begin their search for a specialist. They're overcome with doubt, as they can't find any references, and they don't know what the most important traits are to look for in a repair company. The businesses featured on our new platform will have a clear review rating, based on previous customers' experience as well as a description of the services provided by each repair company. Anyone can browse this directory for free, which will help them locate the best appliance company according to their needs."

Alchemy Digital Media invites all those within the Florida community who are looking for an appliance repair company to engage with Appliance Repair Near Me through the following link: <http://appliancerepaircompaniesnearme.com/>. They state that this is the best alternative to traditional search methods, as the innovative platform allows visitors to easily view, and compare, each company's details. It already hosts a few local businesses who have a proven history of satisfied customers and boast highly positive reviews.

However, Alchemy Digital Media states that, even though visitors now have the best companies in the area listed in a single, convenient location, the final choice will still be theirs to make. The platform exists to reduce the difficulty and complexity involved in selecting a reliable company for appliance repairs, but it does not attempt to tell users what is best for them.

Appliance Repair Near Me also lists some tips to help those who use its resources. The team behind the platform advises users to consider all the aspects and details of the repair needed before searching for a repair company. They say, "It's important to identify, within one's abilities, what might have caused the problem and when it started happening. This will ease the process of contacting different companies, and one will be prepared to answer the different questions that a prospective repair specialist may have. One should also have an estimated budget ready, which will help limit the number of companies available to a reasonably sized selection."

The Appliance Repair Near Me website also hosts a blog where the company regularly publishes posts on a variety of subjects related to appliances. While some of these posts may dive even further into helping visitors locate reliable repair companies, they also include advice on how visitors can take better care of their appliances, and so on. This is part of the company's efforts to help their community.

The Appliance Repair Near Me Platform is already available, and has received their first visitors. One of these visitors shared their experience with the website, saying, "This new platform has truly helped me. I was so indecisive on which local company I should choose, and what were the differences between each of them. I hadn't even thought about searching for reviews and referrals online until I came across this website. Being able to see the past customer's experiences, and being able to compare companies to each other, made me feel much better about my final decision."

The platform works in conjunction with The Repair Association, following the same principles as the renowned company. Interested parties may visit the Appliance Repair Near Me website, or contact Earl Gardner of Alchemy Digital Media, to learn more about the company and their services.
