June 07, 2019 -

Neighborly Termite and Pest Control has announced that they are now offering a number of pest control services in the National City, CA area. The company states that among their regular pest control services, they are also offering termite inspections for residential customers.

"We're proud to be announcing our new pest control services to the National City region," says the company. "Freeing you of unwanted pests is our main goal and we really strive to ensure that you will be satisfied with the results.?

The company states that termite inspection is necessary when buying or selling a home or business. The company states, "Our team can quickly determine if termites are present, even if you're not selling your home, and eliminate them just as quickly."

The pest inspection report is designed to inform buyers of a property about the presence of termites and other insects that are considered to be wood destroying creatures. These include carpenter ants as well as wood boring beetles. Neighborly Termite and Pest Control offers termite inspections that check for all wood destroying insects to provide peace of mind to home buyers and sellers.

The company states that their inspectors are thoroughly trained to look for any signs of wood damage inside and outside the home. Neighborly Termite and Pest Control says there are a number of signs of insect infestations, and that their technicians are educated on the various types of insects as well as the specific signs that should be noticed when performing the inspection. The company states that a real estate transaction can often hinge on the results of a termite inspection, and that they follow all guidelines to ensure that buyers and sellers are safe from any problems caused by termites.

In addition to termite inspections and control, the company also provides routine inspections and extermination for a number of other pests and rodents. More about their new services in the National City area, as well as a complete list of the pest control services they offer can be seen on their official website at https://neighborly-termite-and-pest-control.business.site/.
