

Top-Rated Long Distance Movers In Los Angeles Celebrate Community Support

June 18, 2019

June 18, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Hollywood, California based Air 1 Moving & Storage is celebrating the support shown by their community. The company has accumulated an amazing 4.9/5 Stars Review score on the Google platform, across more than 260 customer reviews.

The long distance moving specialists have served a vast number of customers throughout their active history in the area, and many of them have expressed their happiness with the company on multiple review-focused websites. With this community support to back up their excellent services, Air 1 Moving & Storage takes pride in being the #1 Long Distance Moving Company in Los Angeles.

Among the multitude of customer reviews on Air 1 Moving & Storage's review page is Jeff Cole, a pleased customer who wrote, "I was recommended Air 1 Moving & Storage by a friend of mine who had heard some good stuff about this company. I came expecting good service, yet they managed to greatly surpass my expectations over and over again. They were on time, handled my things with care, and finished in a timely manner. One of the things that really caught my attention is the fact that they were very organized, where many other companies that I have used don't care about this, and I usually end up losing one or more moving boxes. The crew was very nice, professional, and quick. The moving went without any issues. I highly recommend Air 1 Moving & Storage as I am very pleased with them and their services."

Nir Ben David, a spokesperson for Air 1 Moving & Storage, stated, "Every single review is a little part of our journey as a company. We value each piece of feedback, advice, or appreciation that our clients take their time to write, as their opinion means a great deal to us. From the very first day, we have made our customers our first and foremost priority. Given that we regularly see positive reviews from our customers, and an accompanying tide of support, it is clear that we have set ourselves on the right track, and we couldn't be more proud of the work we do. Naturally, we will do our best to continue delivering such a great service, and our goal is to improve even further as time goes on.?"

To acknowledge this show of support, Air 1 Moving & Storage has shared some tips to help all those shifting homes across vast distances have a stress-free long distance move. The moving specialists state that finding the right company with the relevant expertise and knowledge in the business is a crucial part of this process. An experienced company will be able to handle the entire process professionally, ensuring that their customer's belongings are properly handled and completely safe. Air 1 Moving & Storage explains that it is also advisable to invest in quality moving boxes, which should be labeled accordingly with their contents. They also invite all those interested in learning more of these tips to head over to their main website and read their article, "The WoW Style."

However, the advice that the company freely shares with the community at large is only a secondary aspect of their moving solutions. Air 1 Moving & Storage's primary retinue of services include Local Movings, Long Distance Movings, VIP Movings, Piano Movings, and Artwork Installation Movings, all of which are available through their Los Angeles facility. These services are also complemented with Move Insurance, Packing and Unpacking services, and Moving Supplies, which ensures the proper handling of every aspect of a move. In addition to this, Air 1 Moving & Storage offers a personal moving consultant, who will be available before, during, and after a move to answer any questions.

The company takes pride in having a staff that strives to provide their customers with a great experience. The movers stated, "From the moment you call us, we will do our best to understand your needs and deliver high-quality results. We are a national company capable of international and all types of long distance moves, we are able to customize the process to your specific needs."

For more information regarding Air 1 Moving & Storage, customers may contact Nir Ben David. Interested parties may also visit their website to browse further details on the company's services.

###

For more information about Air 1 Moving & Storage, contact the company here: Air 1 Moving & Storage Nir Ben David (866) 552-2913 may@air1moving.com 11255 Vanowen St N Hollywood, CA 91605

Air 1 Moving & Storage

Air 1 Moving is one of the leading local and long-distance moving companies in Los Angeles. Since 2009, we have successfully completed thousands of moves.

Website: <https://www.air1moving.com/>

Email: may@air1moving.com

Phone: (866) 552-2913

