Wind River Spas Website Now Features Custom Hot Tub Builder

June 13, 2019

Denver, Colorado - June 13, 2019 -
Englewood, CO based Wind River Spas recently created a new page on their website which gives visitors to the site the ability to build their own custom hot tub and view relevant prices. The new feature will allow customers to make a more informed choice when choosing what kind of hot tub they want, and it will also give them the ability to design their own hot tub according to their own personal taste and their budget.

Wind River Spas has been making unique hot tubs and spas for customers all across Colorado since 1978. The company builds and sells Colorado-built-and-designed hot tubs that meet the highest standards in the industry. ?We strive to exceed our customers' expectations and never compromise quality or service, while creating a better everyday life for people,? says Wind River Spas. They continue that, ?Many hot tubs on the market today are manufactured at sea level in California and Florida. Wind River Spas focuses on manufacturing carefree spas that can withstand Colorado's demanding climate. The company is committed to providing excellent customer service in the highly competitive metro Denver hot tubs and spas industry.?

The weather in Colorado can cause extensive damage to an outdoor hot tub. The company produces hot tubs and spas that are not only vastly customizable, but also designed to endure the conditions they may be exposed to. Customers are free to visit the Wind River Hot Tubs? showroom to try out any of their prefabricated hot tubs and decide which one suits their needs and desires the best. ?We offer 37 models, with more in development to meet every customer needs. We also offer superior customer service, coupled with an unparalleled product and installation guarantee,? says the company.

Wind River Spas was founded by its current owner, Rick Hallet, in 1978. Focusing from the very beginning on craftsmanship that can withstand the harsh Colorado weather, and providing the best customer service possible, the company quickly became one of the top hot tub and spa manufacturers in the state. From their humble beginnings in Hallet?s garage, the company now operates two showrooms and a manufacturing facility, the only one of its kind in Colorado. Wind River Spas has been family owned and operated for all of the 40 years it has existed, and proudly features the largest selection of hot tubs under one roof. Customers looking for a hot tub or spa need not look any further than Wind River Spas. Find out more at the following link: Hot Tubs For Sale Denver.

The company has received a number of positive reviews from its clients. Cathy K., in a review, states, ?We spent a lot of time reviewing our options, but it only took us about 10 minutes in Wind River Spas to know we had come to the right place. Tyler took his time walking us through all the features and answering our questions, and we walked out of the showroom feeling great about our purchase. The process of delivery and installation was smooth and on-time, and the crews were really friendly. We're really enjoying our spa, and plan to for many years. It's clear to us that this company (rightfully) takes a great deal of pride in their products and service.?

Another review, by Bill M. states, ?The Wind River Spa was highly recommended to us. After a quick visit to their showroom, we were sold. The price was very competitive and all inclusive, including a pre-sale home visit to verify we were buying the right product for our location as well as installation. The Ozone-based filtration system ensures the water is clean and relatively chlorine free. I would highly recommend Wind River as a one-stop shop for anyone looking for a home Spa.?

Wind River Spas has established itself as perhaps the largest hot tub producer and supplier in Colorado. The recently launched custom hot tub design feature will allow a greater amount of customizability in their products.
