June 12, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Texas Mortgage Pros, based in Dallas, Texas, has announced their merger with Prodigy Lending, which further expands their services in the city of Dallas and nearby areas. The company provides home loans in Dallas TX, which it has expanded further after the merger with Prodigy Lending. Their services can be used for buying a new home, Dallas FHA home financing, or the refinancing of funding for home purchases in Texas.

Jason Turner, branch manager for The Texas Mortgage Pros, says, "We are so excited to announce our merger with Prodigy Lending, which allows us to further expand our services in Dallas and surrounding areas. We are committed to providing our Dallas, Texas clients with the highest quality service for your home financing needs. Combined with the lowest rates and several financing programs available in Texas, makes The Texas Mortgage Pros one of the best Dallas companies for providing assistance in purchasing a home in San Antonio, Tomball, The Woodlands, Dallas, Austin, San Antonio, El Paso, Corpus Christi, Midland, Grand Prairie, Arlington, Abilene, and Houston, Texas."

According to Jason Turner, The Texas Mortgage Pros has several home financing professionals with years of experience who are ready to work with clients to ensure that they will get the home financing that is tailor fitted to their particular situation and expectation. Whether it is for Dallas mortgage refinance, the purchase of the client's first home, or consolidating debt, the company's experienced professionals can help the client find the most appropriate financing program at the least possible rate.

As one of their many services to people who are looking for ways to finance the purchase of a home, The Texas Mortgage Pros offers up to date information on home financing and real estate news, including rates, processing, and refinancing. Their goal is to establish lifelong relationships with their clients so that they may continue to offer the best possible service to them for many more years. Jason Turner would also like to point out that unlike many of the bigger nationwide companies offering home financing, all of the information provided by clients are kept private and secure.

Proof of the quality of the services provided by The Texas Mortgage Pros can be obtained from the reviews provided by past clients. For example, Ericka L. said, "I was worried about loan process time and approvals, but everything was explained to me with professionalism and ease." And Will W. said, "[?] I closed today and everything was great. I really appreciate your work and effort in informing me about the process and helping me become a first-time homeowner."

The primary service provided by the professionals at The Texas Mortgage Pros is to help people with home ownership, making it as affordable as possible. Fortunately, with the current economic condition, low rates, and the presence of a large supply of homes for sale, people who are looking to buy homes are in the best position to fulfilling their dream today than ever before.

Buying a home is no longer as difficult as most media have reported it to be. There are several home financing programs that are now available, with each program having its own advantages for certain people. Typical home buyers in the current market may not only select the appropriate program for their specific needs, but they can also select from various home buying financing options. There are programs for those who are insured by the Federal Housing Administration, military people and their eligible spouses, conventional programs, conforming programs, non-conforming programs, non-qualified programs, and programs for rural property owners or those who are looking to buy a home in a rural setting.

The Texas Mortgage Pros is a company that serves as a mortgage lender in Dallas Texas that offers people with a number of possible choices. People who are looking to buy a home who need more information about their services or want to schedule a consultation may want to visit their website, contact them on the phone or via email.
