The Country Club at DC Ranch, a country and golf club in Scottsdale, Arizona, has announced that they have recently launched their new Kids Club. They would like parents and grandparents to know that children have been enjoying the new kids club, especially the Kids Night Out, which is held on Fridays and Saturdays in the Corral, from 5:00 pm to 9:00 pm. Children and their parents and grandparents can enjoy games, swimming, dinner, and even watch a movie together.

Melanie Halpert, spokesperson for The Country Club at DC Ranch, says, "We are so excited to announce that children can really enjoy themselves this summer with the opening of our new Kids Club. Specifically, we have arranged the Kids Night Out event at The Corral. The Corral is the perfect place for our Little Members up to age 9, to enjoy activities, games, fun, snacks, movies and more. Parents and grandparents can drop the kids off at The Corral which is fully supervised with outstanding counselors and staff who will entertain the children while you get to golf, dine, workout or just relax by the pool."

Melanie Halpert wants to emphasize that parents and grandparents need not worry about bringing along children because they have many things to enjoy while at the Scottsdale golf club. She points out that the golf and country club is focused on family life and thus makes sure that the children are happy, safe, and entertained. One way that they're doing this is by providing year round activities for families and chaperoned events for children so that parents can get their well deserved break.

Aside from the Kids Night Out, the club also offers The Hideout, which is a teen room for kids 10 and up. This has been designed to be the perfect hangout area for teens to relax with their friends. As such, The Hideout is provided with the best and the latest video games; golden tee and shuffleboard; and air hockey. This allows the teens to spend hours there playing with their friends.

This summer, there is also the Junior Summer Camp. It offers a well rounded program that is made up of tennis, golf, cooking, art, swimming, and field trips. Experienced counselors and instructors endeavor to make each day enjoyable and unique for the kids. Melanie Halpert points out that they have noticed children returning each year to the Junior Summer Camp as they develop friendships with other young teens.

And for those who enjoy food, aside from the Kids Night Out, there are also the Taco Tuesday at The Pool and Sunday Italian Night. During Taco Tuesday, families can enjoy dinner at the pool where kids and be kids while enjoying the beautiful setting and eating tacos and other delicious food.
