June 14, 2019 -

David Galvan of Galvan Builders in Corpus Christi, Texas is delighted to announce another 5-star review from one of their many happy customers. "We go the extra mile for all our customers, and having them share their delight with us online so the whole world can read it is a testament to our use of high quality materials, expert contractors, and great customer service," he stated. "Our business is built on trust with each and every one of the home and commercial property owners we serve. We know that every roofing problem and issue is different, which is why we provide unique solutions."

Metal roofing has become more popular in Corpus Christi thanks to the advantages and possibilities it brings. Energy efficiency is a key feature, as metal roofs reflect a good amount of heat and UV rays, which helps keep the air temperature indoors at a fairly stable level. Weather resilience, combined with high quality metal, means that some roofs boast of a lifespan of 30 years or more, making them a good investment. For those who remain undecided, Galvan Builders can also help property owners make the right choices for their roofs from the wide range of colors, types and styles available.

The company's roofing solutions are tailored to last the longest time possible. They understand that few homeowners have ever had to replace their roof before, which is why they back up their highly skilled roofers with excellent customer service. They can also help with most insurance carriers for any underpaid or denied Windstorm claim, complemented by a free consultation and roof inspection to help prevent further damage.

Terri M. said, in their 5-star review, "It was a smooth process for someone who's never done this before. Connie Martinez was my rep and took great care of me. She was almost always available for questions or concerns. They were there when my insurance rep came for the inspection and worked with him. They let me know what I would need to do and the process that would follow. The roof looks great, they had to replace a lot of bad spots from previous years and deal with some interesting discoveries from past repairs, but they got it done in two days and left the yards looking better than when they got there. Ned (My construction overseer) did a walk through at the end of the project to point out what had been changed and why. They did the magnetic sweep of the yard and car area for lost nails too! Do not be afraid to check-in with them and ask your questions. They are very nice, professional, and seemed honest and appreciative of the opportunity to work with me. I have and would recommend their services to others."

Galvan Builders can partner with insurers to handle both the inspections and roofing services their customers require. Their standard services include installing new roofs, roof repair, gutter and siding repair, and window and door installation. Those looking for Metal Roofing In Corpus Christi TX, or Tile roofing, can speak with them about the advantages of metal, clay, concrete, bituminous, and stone/slate tiles.

Every homeowner knows that their roof provides essential shelter and protection from the elements. However, they also provide character and set off the rest of the home. Ensuring that the guttering works with their roof layout and insulation is often beyond the design skills of a homeowner or decorator. When in doubt, the company advises that these roofing issues should be brought to the attention of professionals, like those at Galvan Builders.

Through the company's website, visitors can explore past projects and browse their blog, which features guides for roof replacements, the hottest roofing types which are perfect for Corpus Christi properties, and even a library of home maintenance tips. Galvan Builders is a one-stop shop for all roofing needs, and the company is proud to have built their reputation through excellent workmanship, accurate and no-hidden-fee estimates, and the customer care that everyone deserves.

David Galvan invites all their customers, new and old alike, to leave their reviews for Galvan Builders to help spread the word. Interested parties may check out their media room at https://www.pressadvantage.com/i_organization/galvan-builders for all their releases.
