Invisalign Treatments Now Available In San Diego

June 25, 2019 -
San Diego holistic dentist, Sam Parsi, of San Diego Wellness Dentistry, is excited to announce special pricing for new Invisalign patients, starting July 8th. New patients will be able to enjoy one of the most competitive prices in the market for their Invisalign treatment, for a limited time only. Financing and payment plans are also available for this, as the company seeks to have this treatment reach as many people as possible.

Invisalign is an alternative to the traditional all-metal braces, allowing patients who are worried about their appearance to get the same results with a discreet procedure. "This is a life-changing procedure, thus we have decided on lowering the price for the time being, and observe the community response," explains Dr. Parsi. "Many have insecurities about their teeth, and they tend to hide their smile due to this. With Invisalign, you'll still be using braces, and will get all the correction benefits from it, though Invisalign is more subtle-looking because the brackets on each of the teeth are clearer."

He continues, saying, "A smile is often the first thing we notice about someone. It can light up a face and make someone seem approachable. A bright, straight smile is often perceived as a sign of good health as well. However, if you?ve resisted getting your teeth straightened, you might not have relished the idea of wearing braces. This is not strange, as braces are a huge commitment, as they have to be used for up to three years. For these cases where one does not want to commit to having braces for such a long time, Invisalign can be the solution."

Dr. Parsi explains that unlike the traditional option to straighten one's teeth, an Invisalign special treatment involves wearing a series of clear aligners in the patient's mouth that will gradually straighten their teeth, as regular braces would. These aligners will be replaced regularly through the treatment plan, adjusting to the teeth's new position. The main benefit of Invisalign is that, unlike braces, patients will be able to take their Invisalign tray out of their mouth whenever they want, whether it is to eat, floss, or any other activity.

This is a perfect solution for those who don?t want the stigma of wearing metal braces or who prefer a less painful and efficient approach to teeth straightening, as it is not only more discreet, but it can also be removed easily. However, this means that patients will have to be responsible for wearing their aligners, thus patients will have to remember to put them back in after taking them out. "Though this may seem cumbersome at first, it easy to make a habit out of putting them off and on, and patients should have no problem developing this," asserts Dr. Parsi.

Dr. Parsi explains that there is a broad selection of materials to choose from when it comes to Invisalign, though some of the cheaper options may stain the teeth, thus one should consult with their dentist. He states that at the San Diego Wellness Dentistry, only the best quality materials will be used, therefore ensuring that patients take the necessary cautions to avoid any stains, similarly to regular braces.

However, the Invisalign treatment is only available for certain teeth correction treatments, though more conditions are included as the treatment's technology progresses further. For those not eligible for Invisalign, the local dentists state that clear braces are another unobtrusive alternative, being as effective as any other, yet not as discreet as Invisalign.

Dr. Parsi has been serving the San Diego community for a number of years, earning a reputation for his commitment and excellence, being recognized along with San Diego Wellness Dentistry as one of the best dental care centers in the area. Their treatments include Extractions, Porcelain Veneers, Invisalign and Orthodontics, Gum Rejuvenation, Laser Dentistry, and many other procedures.

For those interested in the Invisalign treatment, Dr. Parsi and his team will provide expert guidance and develop an individualized treatment plan, guiding patients through the different options and payment plans available. The specialist has invited those interested to learn more about this treatment to visit their website, where a thorough explanation of the benefits of it can be found.
