Dr. Terry Pfau with a prominent Las Vegas Acupuncture center is helping patients to beat the summer heat. Dr. Pfau is a top acupuncture provider in Las Vegas, Nevada and states that this procedure can help patients throughout the hot summer months.

?We have a clinic that is spacious and offers a great atmosphere for patients to relax,? says Dr. Pfau. ?Acupuncture is a wonderful way to solve any number of issues, and aside from that, we offer a plethora of other procedures such as osteopathic manipulation, bio-identical hormone therapy, and many others.?

Dr. Pfau says that clients simply have to contact the center to learn more about how this procedure can help them throughout the summer months. The center includes a team of top rated physicians, as well as a nutritionist, pharmacist and naturopath, all of whom work together to help clients to address their medical issues and solve them using natural means as opposed to medications and invasive procedures.

?Renaissance Health Centre offers a natural approach to healing,? says Dr. Pfau. ?We help our cleints using natural therapies, such as IV nutrients, which are perfect for keeping one hydrated during these hot desert months.?

The center uses different methods of healing and helping patients to enjoy optimal health. In addition to acupuncture, they also provide chelation and anti-aging natural hormone replacement. Hormone decreases can cause hot flashes as women who have gone through menopause will agree. Natural hormone replacement can help to lower the instances of these hot flashes and help considerably for those who are suffering from the summer temperatures.

Dr. Pfau says that many clients are unaware of how acupuncture can assist them with overheating. This ancient method of healing can help to lower body temperatures and make one feel much more comfortable in the heat, as explained by Dr. Pfau.

The center is one of the most integrative health care and acupuncture clinics in the region. They offer microcurrent therapies as well, which can be used to relieve pain and help the body to heal much more quickly than with other methods of healing. Patients who experience headaches, vertigo and anxiety have remarked on hos microcurrent therapies have helped them to feel much better instantly. Acupuncture is traditionally a means of treating pain and body imbalances and Dr. Pfau states that it can successfully be used to help patients who are not dealing well with the Las Vegas heat.

?It gets hot in the desert,? says Dr. Pfau. ?Acupuncture has proven to be a good method of relieving the body?s heat because it puts the body back into balance. Whatever is causing the imbalance, in this instance the heat, can be reversed, helping the patient to instantly feel better.?

Those who are interested in learning more can visit the healing center at their Las Vegas location or visit them on their website to learn more about all of the services that they provide. Dr. Pfau urges those who are visiting Las Vegas to contact the center when they begin feeling the effects of the sun and humidity.

Las Vegas gets much hotter than many other areas of the nation simply because it lies in the middle of the desert and many who are visiting for the first time have issues with this heat. Dr. Pfau states that anyone who is not used to these types of temperatures is likely going to have a difficult time and that can cause a vacation to go south quickly. He states that even those who are new to the area or who are simply visiting for a short time can benefit from the healing properties of acupuncture to help them to better handle the extreme temperatures in this area.

Those who would like to learn more can visit the center online to learn more or to book an appointment or contact them directly to learn more about how any of the procedures that they offer can help them to deal with pain or any body discomfort.
