June 24, 2019 -

Families, couples, entrepreneurs and professionals moving to Fort Myers have to sell their houses before they can completely relocate. Owning a house in another city or town is not viable for everyone. Most people need to cash in on their real estate asset. Liquidating the property secures enough cash at hand to plan a new life in Fort Myers. Selling the previous residence may not be entirely or solely to fund the move and getting started in the new place. The money is often used to fund the purchase of a new house in the city.

Many homeowners try to sell their properties before moving but the long process and delays disrupt their plans. Most homeowners rely on the services of real estate agents who are unable to expedite the sale. Buyers always prefer properties that are priced below the market value. Real estate agents often insist on the same to get a closing offer faster than usual. Neither of these scenarios augurs well for sellers. Choosing to wait for sixty to ninety days to get a closing offer is not desirable for anyone who has a specific plan of moving to Fort Myers. Dependable Homebuyers has a liquidation solution that can completely resolve the problem.

Dependable Homebuyers is a We Buy Houses company. It has a significant presence in Fort Myers but buys properties all across Florida. Those who are moving from within the state can certainly contact the real estate investment firm and sell their houses directly. Those moving from outside the state can also do the same. Dependable Homebuyers is now a nationwide company. The firm buys properties regardless of state or specific location. They also buy properties in every possible condition. A house could be severely damaged. It can be very old. A property may be under foreclosure. Whether there is a flooded basement or a settling in foundation, a damaged roof or anything else, the company is still interested in buying and can provide a direct cash offer. Here's a recent press release they published.

Dependable Homebuyers does not look for buyers in the open real estate market. They are not using the services of realtors. With no realtor and ordinary buyer in the equation, there is no commission and closing cost to bear, there is no staging and advertising. The property is sold as-is so there is no repair or renovation either. Homeowners moving to Fort Myers can conveniently sell their property without spending any money and that too within a week. Dependable Homebuyers can come up with a cash offer in twenty four hours after the inspection. They can close the sale as preferred by the seller. They can close the deal immediately if a seller wants.

There is no easier way to liquidate a residential property anywhere in Florida or beyond. Those moving to Fort Myers can secure a sale, generate the maximum return on their original investment, be free of mortgage and other debts one may have and can conveniently relocate and start a new life.
