

Avant-Garde Glass Discuss Compliant Glass Balustrade Requirements in Sydney

June 24, 2019

June 24, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Sydney based Avant-Garde Glass has recently issued a public advisory on the importance of quality frameless glass balustrade installations.

“Installing a frameless balustrade in your home is an exciting time for the entire family, however according to the Australian Glass and Glazing Association, there are a particular set of regulations that need to be met for Glass Balustrades to be compliant in the Australian climate,” says Sam Palliya of Avant-Garde Glass, this is the reason the Building Code of Australia (BCA) has such strict regulations over balustrade safety laws and standards. The code requires glass balustrades to be over 1m high if there is an adjacent fall of over 1m and that all glass balustrades at this height are required to have a form of railing. More specific details and information found on your state particular BCA website.

Avant-Garde Glass’s website explains that they are offering frameless glass balustrade installations that are compliant to all regulations governed in NSW, to suit all layouts. “We are a team of experts who install quality and highly rated fences in Sydney and New South Wales. Our in house engineers sign off on all our projects, so you can rest assured that we will deliver a simple and compliant install every time,” Palliya added.

As mentioned on the company's website, they also provide DIY guides to ensure customers fully understand how to install the materials themselves in a compliant manner, if they are considering DIY projects.

Their materials made from a quality toughened glass, that will keep the install looking aesthetically pleasing and safe and compliant to New South Wales' fencing regulations. "Our team ensures that we supply the best materials to meet our clients design requirements while ensuring we meet the strict requirements set by the Australian building code. Also, we only contract installers that can meet similarly high expectations so that all our installs are to the highest standards," he added.

According to Palliya, finding a reliable contractor that provides a compliant and dependable service is highly essential. A sturdy balustrade fence is a must for all homeowners, and using quality materials will reduce the risk of injury that can occur from improper installation or inferior quality materials.

Opting for a glass balcony fence is an excellent option for multiple reasons. It not only allows for a more beautiful balcony, but it also makes the area look even more massive by opening up space. It can also be adapted to fit any landscape, and is not as prone to wear and tear and can withstand extreme weather changes experienced by a glass balustrade in Sydney.

In conclusion, Palliya says to look for a fencing contractor who will provide quality materials, a quick installation process, and excellent after-sales support. "We not only provide you with a comprehensive and tailored layout for your project; we can even walk you through installing the fence yourself if you would prefer a DIY install. Our friendly customer service representatives are always ready to help, and our installers and technicians are just a call away. By choosing our services, you will get to enjoy a quick and thorough fencing installation, with guaranteed compliance to all the local laws and regulations," he added.
