

SEO Consultant In Northern Ireland Announces Giveaway Of Brand New Websites

July 01, 2019

July 01, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Leading Results Marketing, an SEO Consultant In Northern Ireland, recently announced that they will be giving away five brand new website for small and medium businesses during the months of July and August 2019. A leader in Northern Ireland SEO services, the company aims to give back to the community by granting them an opportunity to win a website that comes fully designed and optimized by the specialists.

Adrian McGivern, a representative of the company, states, "Since we have experienced such a great response and outpouring of support from the community, we have decided to give something back to them. This is an opportunity that could greatly impact the growth of a business in a positive way, allowing them to reach their full potential in a timely manner. Those who know our company for our website design services can speak of how impactful such services can be to a business, and just how many new customers a proper website can generate."

The SEO agency explains that the giveaway is intended to help businesses generate more local enquiries and demand for their product or service. However, only small and medium businesses will be eligible to participate in the contest this time around. As they explain, this is due to the fact that they hope to significantly boost the popularity and success of local companies who prove to be beneficial to the community in many ways, rather than simply giving an already well-established business a rebrand. To learn more, visit the following link: SEO in Northern Ireland.

The eligibility criteria for the giveaway state that a contestant must be a local business with up to 50 employees. Additionally, they must provide a product or service in the Northern Ireland or ROL markets. This means that online trading and e-commerce businesses are not eligible for the contest; Leading Results Marketing asserts that they are looking for companies that pose a greater impact on their community.

To enter the contest, participants who meet the eligibility criteria must submit a brief history of their business along with the market they serve, and why they believe they should be a winner. McGivern states, "We encourage creativity. Find the best ways to describe your company, and tell us how you have positively affected the community around you. Winners will be selected based on merit and their ability to convey their benefit to the local community; thus you should pour your heart into the application. Keep it short and concise though, find some ways to demonstrate why you should be the best choice to receive one of our websites."

Winners of the contest can expect a custom-designed website from Leading Results Marketing, specially developed according to each company and their unique requirements. A professionally designed website has been proved to be one of the most effective ways to generate traffic and convert it to customers. For growth stage businesses, this can be a game-changing step up, elevating their customer base to the standards of well-established businesses.

It is their excellence in these services that have earned Leading Results Marketing their highly positive reputation in the industry. McGivern states, "While having a website with a strong SEO is something that new businesses often overlook, this does not make it any less important. Some of the old methods of advertising, such as newspaper ads, are already obsolete, though many new businesses prefer this over online advertising with a reliable SEO consultant in Northern Ireland. Truth is, thousands of potential customers do Google searches and choose one of the top companies as their service provider. When you think about it, you are losing many customers just from not having your website visible and easy enough to find."

To learn more about the company, their services, and their guaranteed results, interested parties may visit the company's website.

Those who wish to learn more regarding the giveaway contest held by Leading Results Marketing, or SEO in Northern Ireland, may contact Adrian McGivern, who will be in charge of reviewing the submissions and choosing the winners. Participants are advised that submissions will only be accepted if sent to the designated email address.
