Clients who choose to work with Adwell services are guaranteed clean windows and the company ensures that its workers deliver a positive experience for clients. "Whether we scrub your windows with soapy water and squeegee them clean or use our state-of-the-art pure water technology, you can be sure you'll love the results," says the company. "You'll rest easy knowing that our workers are carefully selected to fit our culture of "Customer Happiness," making your experience pleasant and comfortable. We even wear booties inside your home to protect your flooring."

Pure water window cleaning make use of water that has been put through a specialized filtration system. Since water is one of the best solvents on the planet, it is possible to dissolve dirt and stains using pure water without the need for soap. Ordinary tap water contains invisible particles that, when they dry, can leave behind spots, but the pure water that comes out of the filter can, when combined with professional tools and techniques, be used to scrub away dirt and stains on windows up to six stories high without the need for any added chemicals or equipment like ladders or lifts.

Pure water also offers a greater degree of safety as it allows workers to clean windows multiple stories up from the ground. It also decreases the risk of damage to the property being cleaned by reducing the need for ladders or other pieces of equipment. Pure water cleaning also offers greater efficiency, allowing the project to require less time to complete. Furthermore, it is far more environmentally friendly than other methods of cleaning, such as those which make use of chemicals that may be harmful to the environment.

?Most business owners assume that window washing is a hard but worthwhile job,? says Adwell Services. ?The great news is that Adwell Services provides these window services, so that it?s easier to focus on other responsibilities.? The company notes that simply cleaning the windows on a piece of property can vastly improve the appearance of the building. The process need not be expensive and complicated, however. With Adwell Services and their pure water window cleaning, it is possible to have one?s windows clean with very little risk of injury to anyone involved?and no risk of damage to the environment.
