July 22, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Tough Man Beard Grooming is proud to announce the upcoming launch of their new Beard Oil. The oil will be the first product in a line of beard grooming products for men. The focus is to offer great products for men with beards and mustaches.

"We are very happy to launch this new beard oil," said Johnny D. Bulter. "This is a well-researched product for the quality conscious man that will help him keep his beard well groomed ."

Tough Man Beard Grooming beard oil is for everyone that have experienced some itching or tickling in their beard or just want a well-groomed beard. It consists of a blend of beneficial oils selected especially for the comfort of beards. The oil is unscented to emphasize a masculine scent and to avoid a feminine scent of other natural oils.

"Our brand evolved after experimenting with natural oils for perfect beard care," said Johnny. "We launch our first beard oil to offer the same oil we have fallen in love with for our beards to other men out there that also care for their beards."

Tough Man Beard Grooming beard oil will be available in the US on ToughManBeard.com and Amazon.com. At first it will only be available for sale online. The beard oil is offered at a deep discount for everyone that register at the company's website before the launch.

Johnny Bulter stated: "We are certain that our beard oil will be well received by men that care for their beards, and are looking forward to the launch the coming week."
